Dazzle. Beauties make the world a little happier, a little gayer. Light. Sparkle. Competition. Most of all, the Miss Le Flambeau Pageant. The beauties transmit their shine to the people around them. Did you see how Debbie's face lit up when she got Senior Beauty? She looked great. She made everybody feel great too. That's what beauty really is. What you're like on the inside showing through. The way you feel. Great. Like you could lift the world. Everybody knows about the beauties.

Grit. Athletics means competition, to the highest degree, competition. It's a healthy way to vent stifled emotions. A way to learn to get along with others. Proving your ability. That's the why of athletics. To prove how much you're worth when compared to others. Jim practices his track a lot. He's out to break the state record. That's good. It's healthy. And, besides, athletics is an activity that can bring honor to the school. That's good too.

In. Organizations. Being involved. Doing what you like to do. Expressing yourself the way you want to. Recognition. Through organizations you learn to accept responsibility. You feel a little bit of personal pride, of satisfaction, because you did something well and it got noticed. Remember the Honor Society induction when everybody held his breath till the last person was tapped? Recognition. Everybody owes a little to organizations, even if it's just a pretty bulletin board to look at. It's being in and not out.

Now. Spirit. That's what it's all about. It keeps a school alive. And '71 had it. Yesterday my buddy said to me, "Maybe our football team didn't win any games, but they sure did try hard." That's spirit. And spirit is getting along together and showing pride in our school and community. We had that too. We've had some pretty trying times at Greer High this year, but everybody put forth a lot of effort to make the year a successful one. That's what it's all about.

Album. Album is people. Friends. Enemies. Even strangers. All the people that make up Greer High. These people are classes, groups. And yet they're individuals too. Each one made his own contributions, good and bad, to 1970-71. One senior summed it all up. "If I was asked to tell Greer High's best point, I would have to say its people." But another said, "The students are colder this year, harder, more irresponsible than in past years." Times change. The people aren't the same ones they were last year. They've grown older and graduated to higher things. Somehow they symbolize something. Life, I guess.

Mike,
 Run up and learn how to throw the shot,
 if that possible, Good luck.
 Ken

This year Le Flambeau turned back the clock three hundred years for a look at the styles of that period. On a stage decorated with cotton bales and draped cotton material, the Senior contestants modeled tri-centennial gowns which were voted upon by all forty-three contestants. Donna Hannon's light blue satin and lace gown was chosen most authentic and stylish.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Reggie Chesson; soloist was Gary Van Patton; and organist was Fredda Glenn. Welcome and presentation of awards was carried out by Roxzanne Beason, Nancy Phillips, and Ben Trammell.

Senior nominees, pictured at right, include Marva Sullivan, Connie McCraw, Pam Polson, Darlene Shaw, and Pam Belue. Also, Kaja Henderson, Caprice Henderson, Anne Marie Bright, Donna Hannon, and Barby Lurey. Also, Perrin Coxe, Debbie Duncan, Olivia Johnson, Lynne Satterfield, and Susan Solesbee. Also, Alice Lee, Debbie Smith, Pam Ammons, Paulette Garrett, and Yvonne Smith.

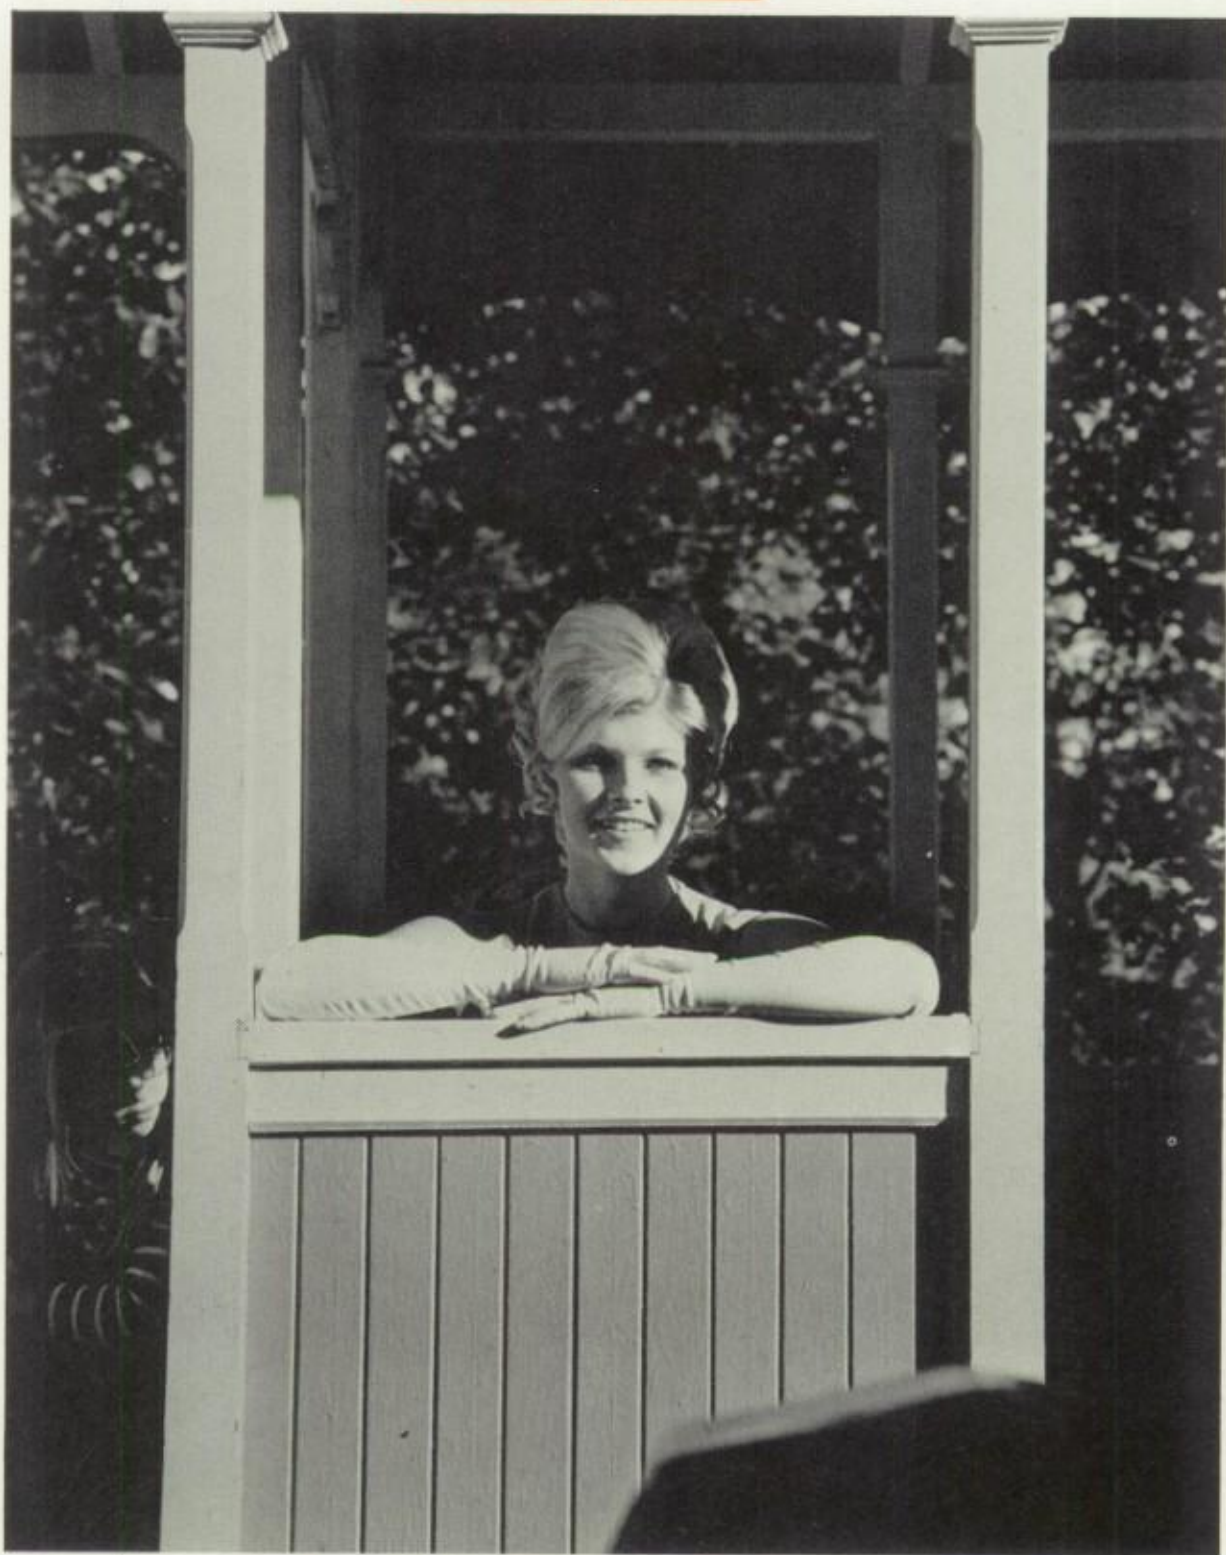

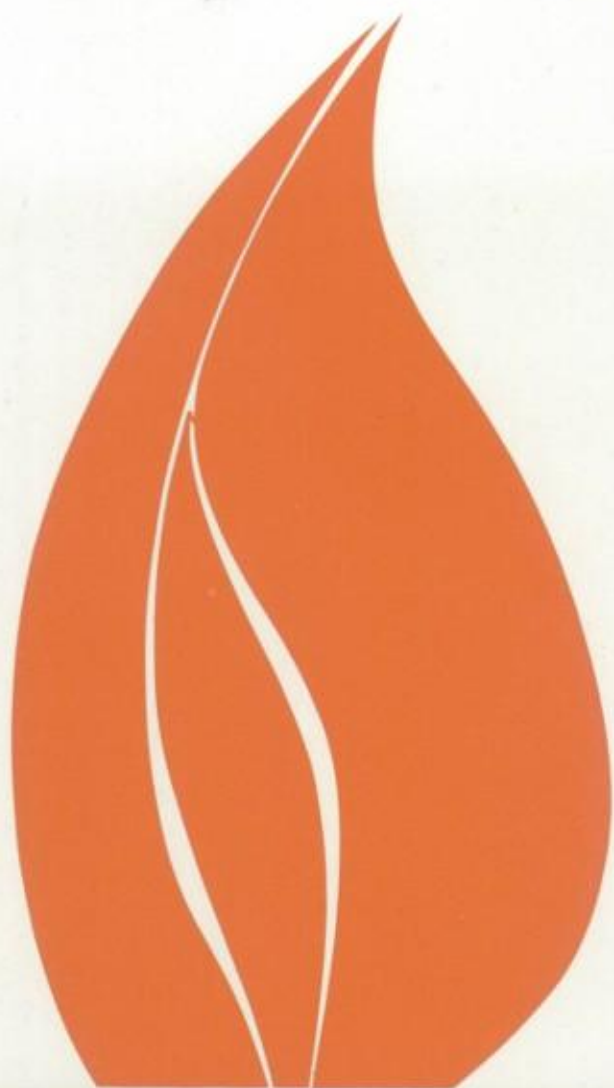

Mike,
English has been good this year.
Good luck! Love

 I haven't known you too long but you are a pretty nice person & a good football player

This year's football season rolled in with an air of expectancy on the last hot waves of summer and rolled out with still a lot to be desired. But the season left a lot of warm memories embedded in the souls of each of us. Many will be the times when the students of Greer High will relive those few precious months that are now history.

The team started getting ready for this season in the hot month of August while many students were still enjoying the summer vacation. As September 4th grew near, the mighty Jackets became more and more excited. Finally the night of the big game arrived. This was the first game Greer played in the AAAA conference. Coach Few believed the boys were ready, and the team traveled to Belton-Honea Path in subdued quietness of anticipation. They arrived in good spirits as the crowd cheered the team onto the field for the first time of the 1970-71 football season.

The first game proved to be exciting as both teams played well. Belton-Honea Path just slid past Greer in the rain with a score of 9 to 7. Our boys gained valuable experience in this game that would be needed the rest of the season.

The next week the Yellow Jackets again boarded the bus, this time to meet the Greenville Red Raiders on their home ground. Greer played well the first half as the rain-soaked fans watched. Greenville proved to be too much for our team as they walked away with a 28 to 7 win.

After these first two games Greer took a stand in their own territory against the attacking Gaffney Indians. Gaffney scored the first time they got the ball, and the damp mist closed in around our struggling Jackets. In the fourth quarter Greer scored 7, but it just wasn't enough. The Indians walked away with a 37 to 7, victory under their belt. The gloomy rain of these first games seemed to foreshadow the season.

The following week Greer faced Wade Hampton which had one of the top-ranked teams in South Carolina. The Jackets were not discouraged as they waited for the Generals in Greer. The game was dominated by the strong Wade Hampton team as they left Greer carrying a 44 to 0 win.

Next the Jackets crawled deep into Easley's Green Wave country. This game was fatal to the Yellow Jackets. Greer met the Green Wave, one of our bad nights, and Easley had a 38 to 6 victory.

The Jackets looked to the Homecoming battle with J. L. Mann, and thought they could win. The Homecoming was postponed due to rain, and the game was played on the next evening. The game was close, but our hopes for victory proved to be false. The team went to the showers with a 16 to 6 defeat.

The Jackets worked hard as the Anderson game drew near. Greer hit the road with more experience and high hopes. Anderson's team was first in the conference as Greer was to find out. The Jackets went home in a sad state after Anderson won the game 35 to 0, but the coaching staff kept the team from thinking like losers.

Hillcrest proved to be the only victory for the Yellow Jackets although this fact was not known for several weeks. At the half the Jackets returned to their nest with another half of a scoreless game yet to be played. As the game came to an end, the scoreboard showed the Rams on top 13 to 0. But later it was learned that they had played an ineligible player, and Greer won by forfeit.

The Greer Yellow Jackets traveled to Parker to meet their Golden Tornados. Again the Jackets' hopes were high. The two teams took the field, and there was no score in the first quarter. Parker dominated the next quarter leaving the halftime score at 14 to 0. After the half Greer was looking for 14 points, but after the third quarter the score remained 14 to 0. When the game was over, Parker had scored 14 more points, and Greer had connected a pass for 6. Thus ended another game with the Jackets on the short end. The game went down in the record books with 28 points for Parker and 6 for Greer.

Homecoming for the 1970-71 season was held on November 6th. The stadium was decorated with a huge replica of a Yellow Jacket football player built by the junior class and dedicated to the seniors of '71. There was also a large sign built by the class of '73 for the senior class. Greer took the field against Carolina as a large crowd looked on. At half-time the Jackets looked good, and they rested with a 3 point lead. Alice Lee was crowned Homecoming Queen '70 by the co-captains, Bo Roe and Tom Johnson. The rest of the game was close until the end, but the Trojans left with a 24 to 13 victory.

With one more game to go on the schedule, the Jackets looked toward our rival, Byrnes. This was one of the best games the team played, but the scoreboard did not show how hard the boys worked. As the time ran out, Byrnes had the victory. The scoreboard showed 32 points for the Rebels and 0 for the Yellow Jackets.

It is easy for the students to shrug off this season by saying, "It was just a bad season." O.K., it may have been a bad season, but the young men who make up the team put their hearts into a losing effort. The score board never showed how hard the boys fought.

The football banquet was held December 3rd. This dinner was sponsored by the Lions and the Kiwanis clubs. Coach "Hootie" Ingram of Clemson University was the guest speaker. The trophies were presented to Keith Trout (sportsmanship), Eddie Shirley (best blocker), Randy Mas-singill (best defensive player), and Dwight Beasley (most valuable). The co-captains of the year were Tom Johnson, and Jeff "Goober" Bradley. Thus, the season was brought to a close. For many there will never be another season at Greer, and cheers of the crowd will often reecho in their ears as they go through life.

The Greer High Yellow Jackets were under a new coach this year, Mr. Jim Jack, who led them deep into the AAAA Conference for the first time. Although this was not Greer High's best season, the team gained much valuable experience. Three of Greer's twelve were seniors; nine were juniors. Junior, Randy McCullen was third high scorer in the Sertoma Tournament, where the team won the sportsmanship trophy. The Jayvees also had a new coach, Mr. Pat Sudduth. After winning the first game, the Baby Jackets posted a 7 win, 10 loss season.

*It's been great knowing you these past few years,

Baseball

This spring the Greer High baseball team will attempt to keep the conference crown for the third consecutive year. The team will try to win again with the aid of six returning lettermen: Ronnie Bennett, Barry Copeland, Marney Hannon, Randy Massingill, Tony Williams, and David Yeargin.

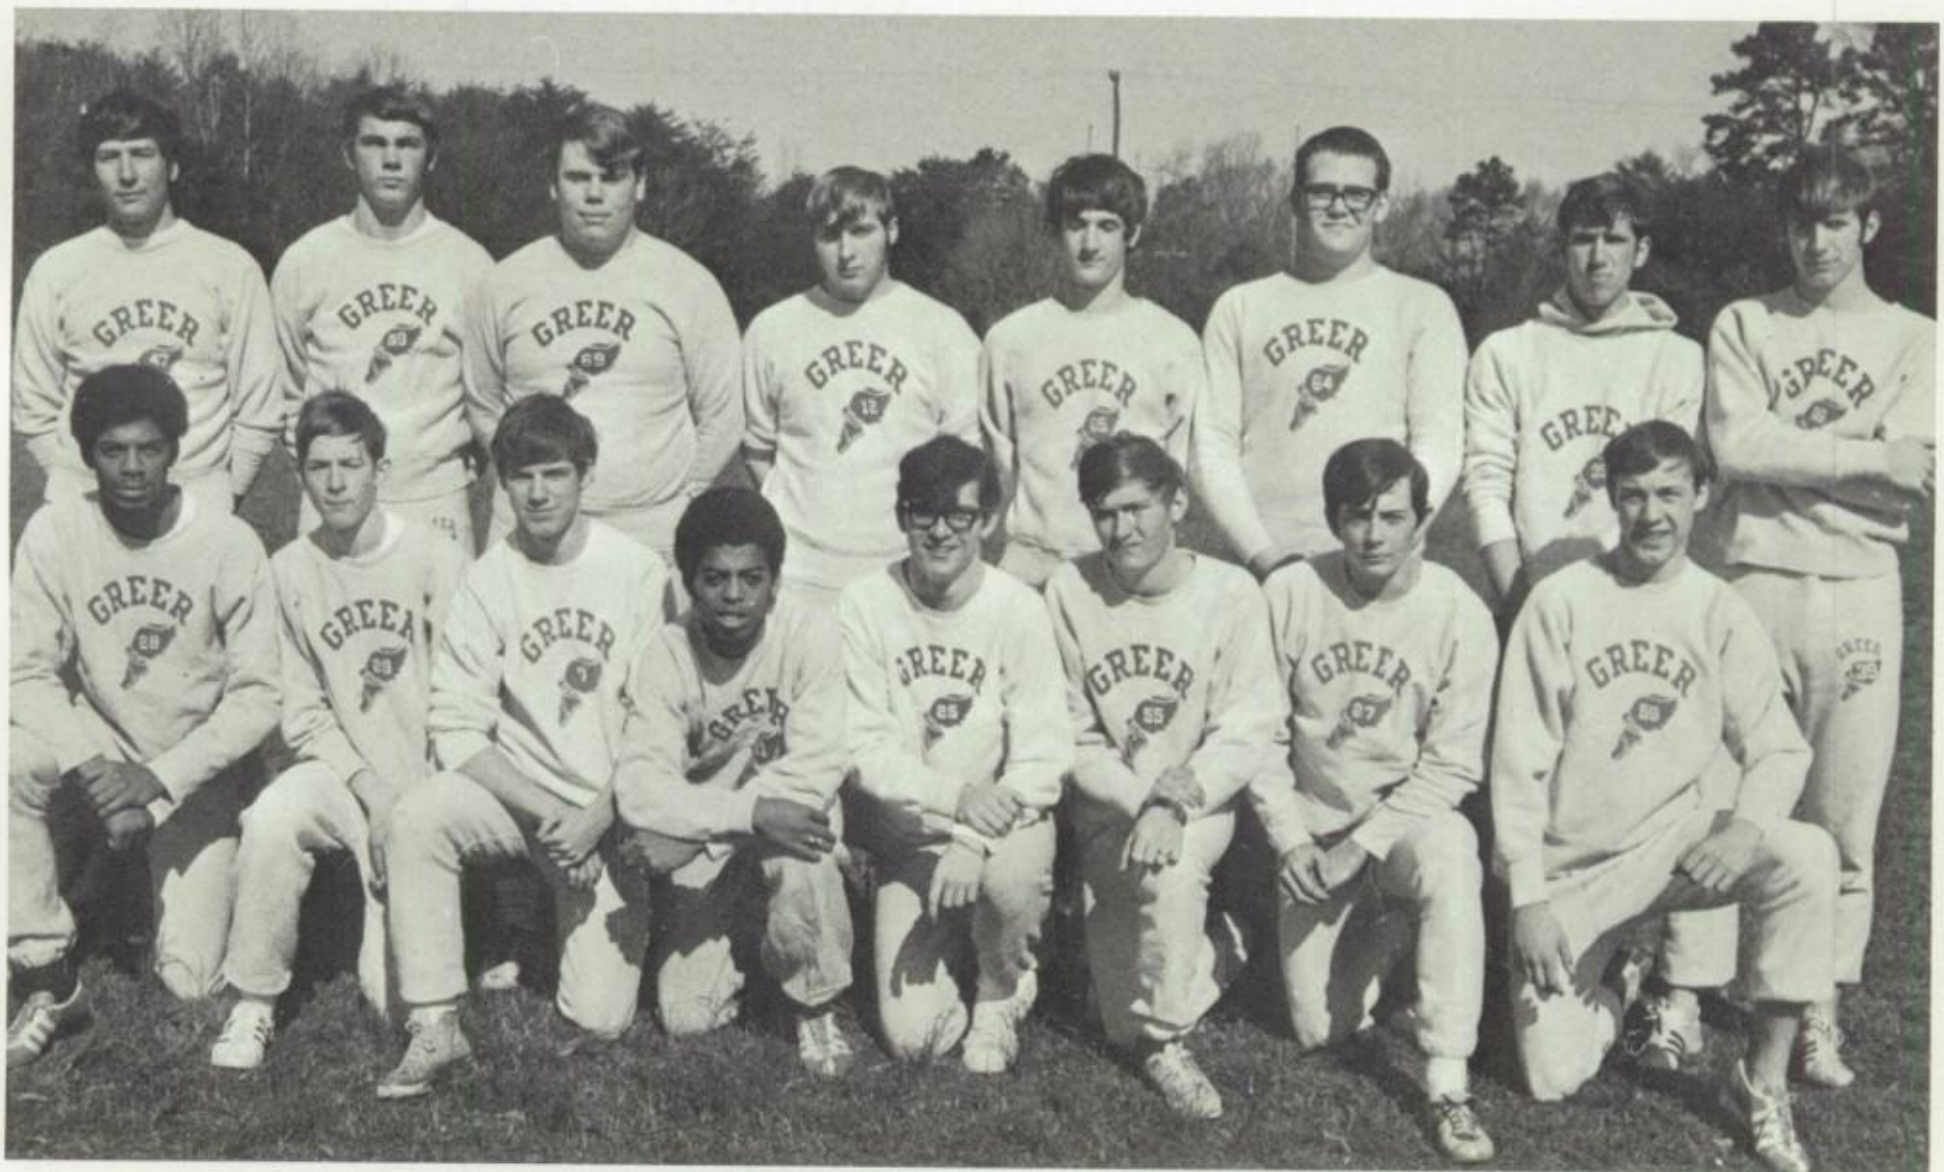

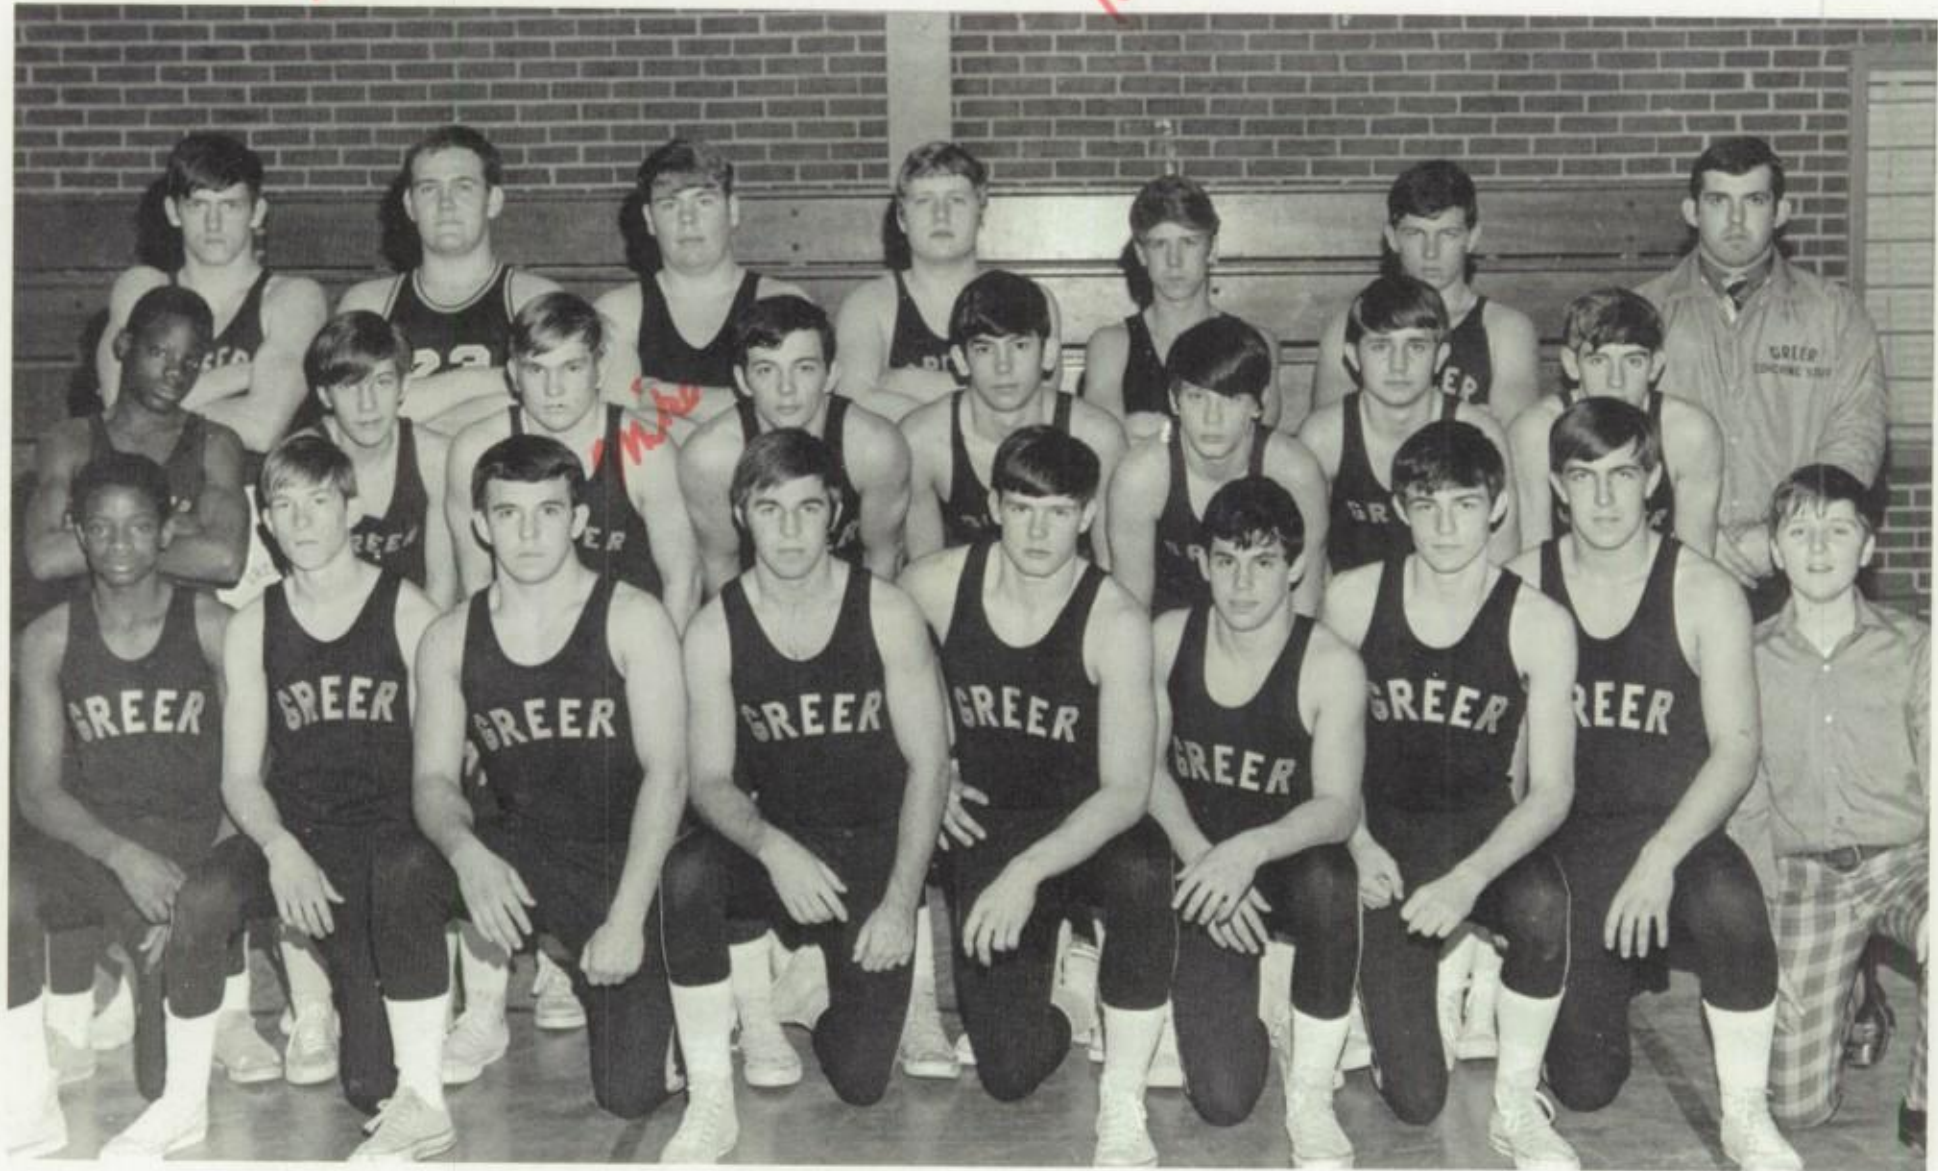

Coach Jimmy Few has led the team to the conference championship for the last two years, and he will try again this year. The boys had a bad start this year because rain forced them to practice in the gym for the first time. Now that the weather has cleared the boys have been practicing hard, and the year looks bright for the team.

Student Council

The Student Cooperative Association is just that, a group of students who cooperate with each other and with the administration to insure the smooth management of Greer High. The members of the SCA, the student body, are represented by the Student Council at meetings where business concerning the students is discussed with the administration. A House of Representatives, made up of homeroom presidents and class officers, serve with the Council which is composed of class presidents and the officers of the student body. The SCA officers are in charge of daily services of the school such as the morning thought, announcements, and color guard. Special activities of the SCA for this year included the candy sale, Christmas cards to Greer High alumni who are in the service, Christmas gifts for the custodians, and the Student Council Award to a qualified senior.

With a subscription list of nearly eight hundred students, the Greer High Times covers all aspects of school life with its reports of student participation in academics, sports, extracurricular activities, and clubs. Editorial views are also expressed in this publication. Both the serious and humorous sides of school life appear in the paper. This year many students have expressed their opinions in letters to the editor, and questionnaires with humorous themes have added enjoyment for the student reader. "Snoopy", which reports on dating couples and group activities, is the feature of the Times that is most popular with the students. Through pictures and drawings the fun-loving sides of teachers and students are shown in the "Pin-up-of-the-Month".

Have the butcher cut in 2-inch lengths 1½ pounds oxtail; sprinkle with flour and salt and pepper. Melt in a deep kettle 3 tablespoons fat. Add the oxtail. Cook ten minutes, turning to brown on all sides. Add 2 quarts Brown Stock, consomme, or water. Simmer until the meat falls away from the bone (2 or 3 hours). Remove the bones. Add ½ cup each diced carrots, turnip, onion, and celery; simmer until the vegetables are soft. Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire. Add one tablespoon of Madeira to enhance the easy. Add enough water to make about 1½ quarts. Serves 8.

Forty-five members under the direction of Mr. John Rawl composed this year's Greer High Band. Four majorettes and a color guard added to the halftime shows at football games in which the band staged a new routine every two weeks. The marching band participated in Christmas parades at Greer, Inman, and Woodruff, where they were selected as best band, and the concert band staged a concert in the spring. The band raised money during the year by publishing football programs, selling "Rex" cleaner, and sponsoring the "Little Miss Greer" pageant. In addition to the already existing concert band, a stage band, featuring trombones, trumpets, and basses, was organized this year.

Chorus, the class that's not a class, lets a student enjoy himself and learn at the same time. Under their instructor, Miss Cheryl Wilson, the two hundred and forty-five students of the chorus classes performed in special programs for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. Special groups including the Greer High Singers, the Teen Tones, and the Southmen gave Christmas and spring concerts and presented programs in factions outside the school such as the Roger Huntington Nursing Home. Chosen as All State Chorus members for this year were Jason Smith, Mary Larke Morgan, and Bobby McCuen. Three choral music students, Paula Gordon, Susan Solesbee, and Marva Sullivan, participated in the Singing Christmas Tree at the Greenville Memorial Auditorium in December.

This year the students of Greer High could join thirteen clubs. Membership in these clubs was available to students who took a foreign language or art, to school bus drivers, or to persons interested in athletics. They also supplied invaluable aid to students who planned careers as teachers, librarians, homemakers, farmers, and business personnel. Through the clubs the members were involved in the activities which interested them and had the opportunity to exhibit their thoughts and feelings, to develop their talents, and to perform valuable services for others. Most of all they learned to recognize their responsibilities and to cooperate with their fellow students. Then, even though the different clubs were formed for many different purposes and held various goals, each had a common purpose, to serve as a connecting tie between students of like interests.

Who cares?

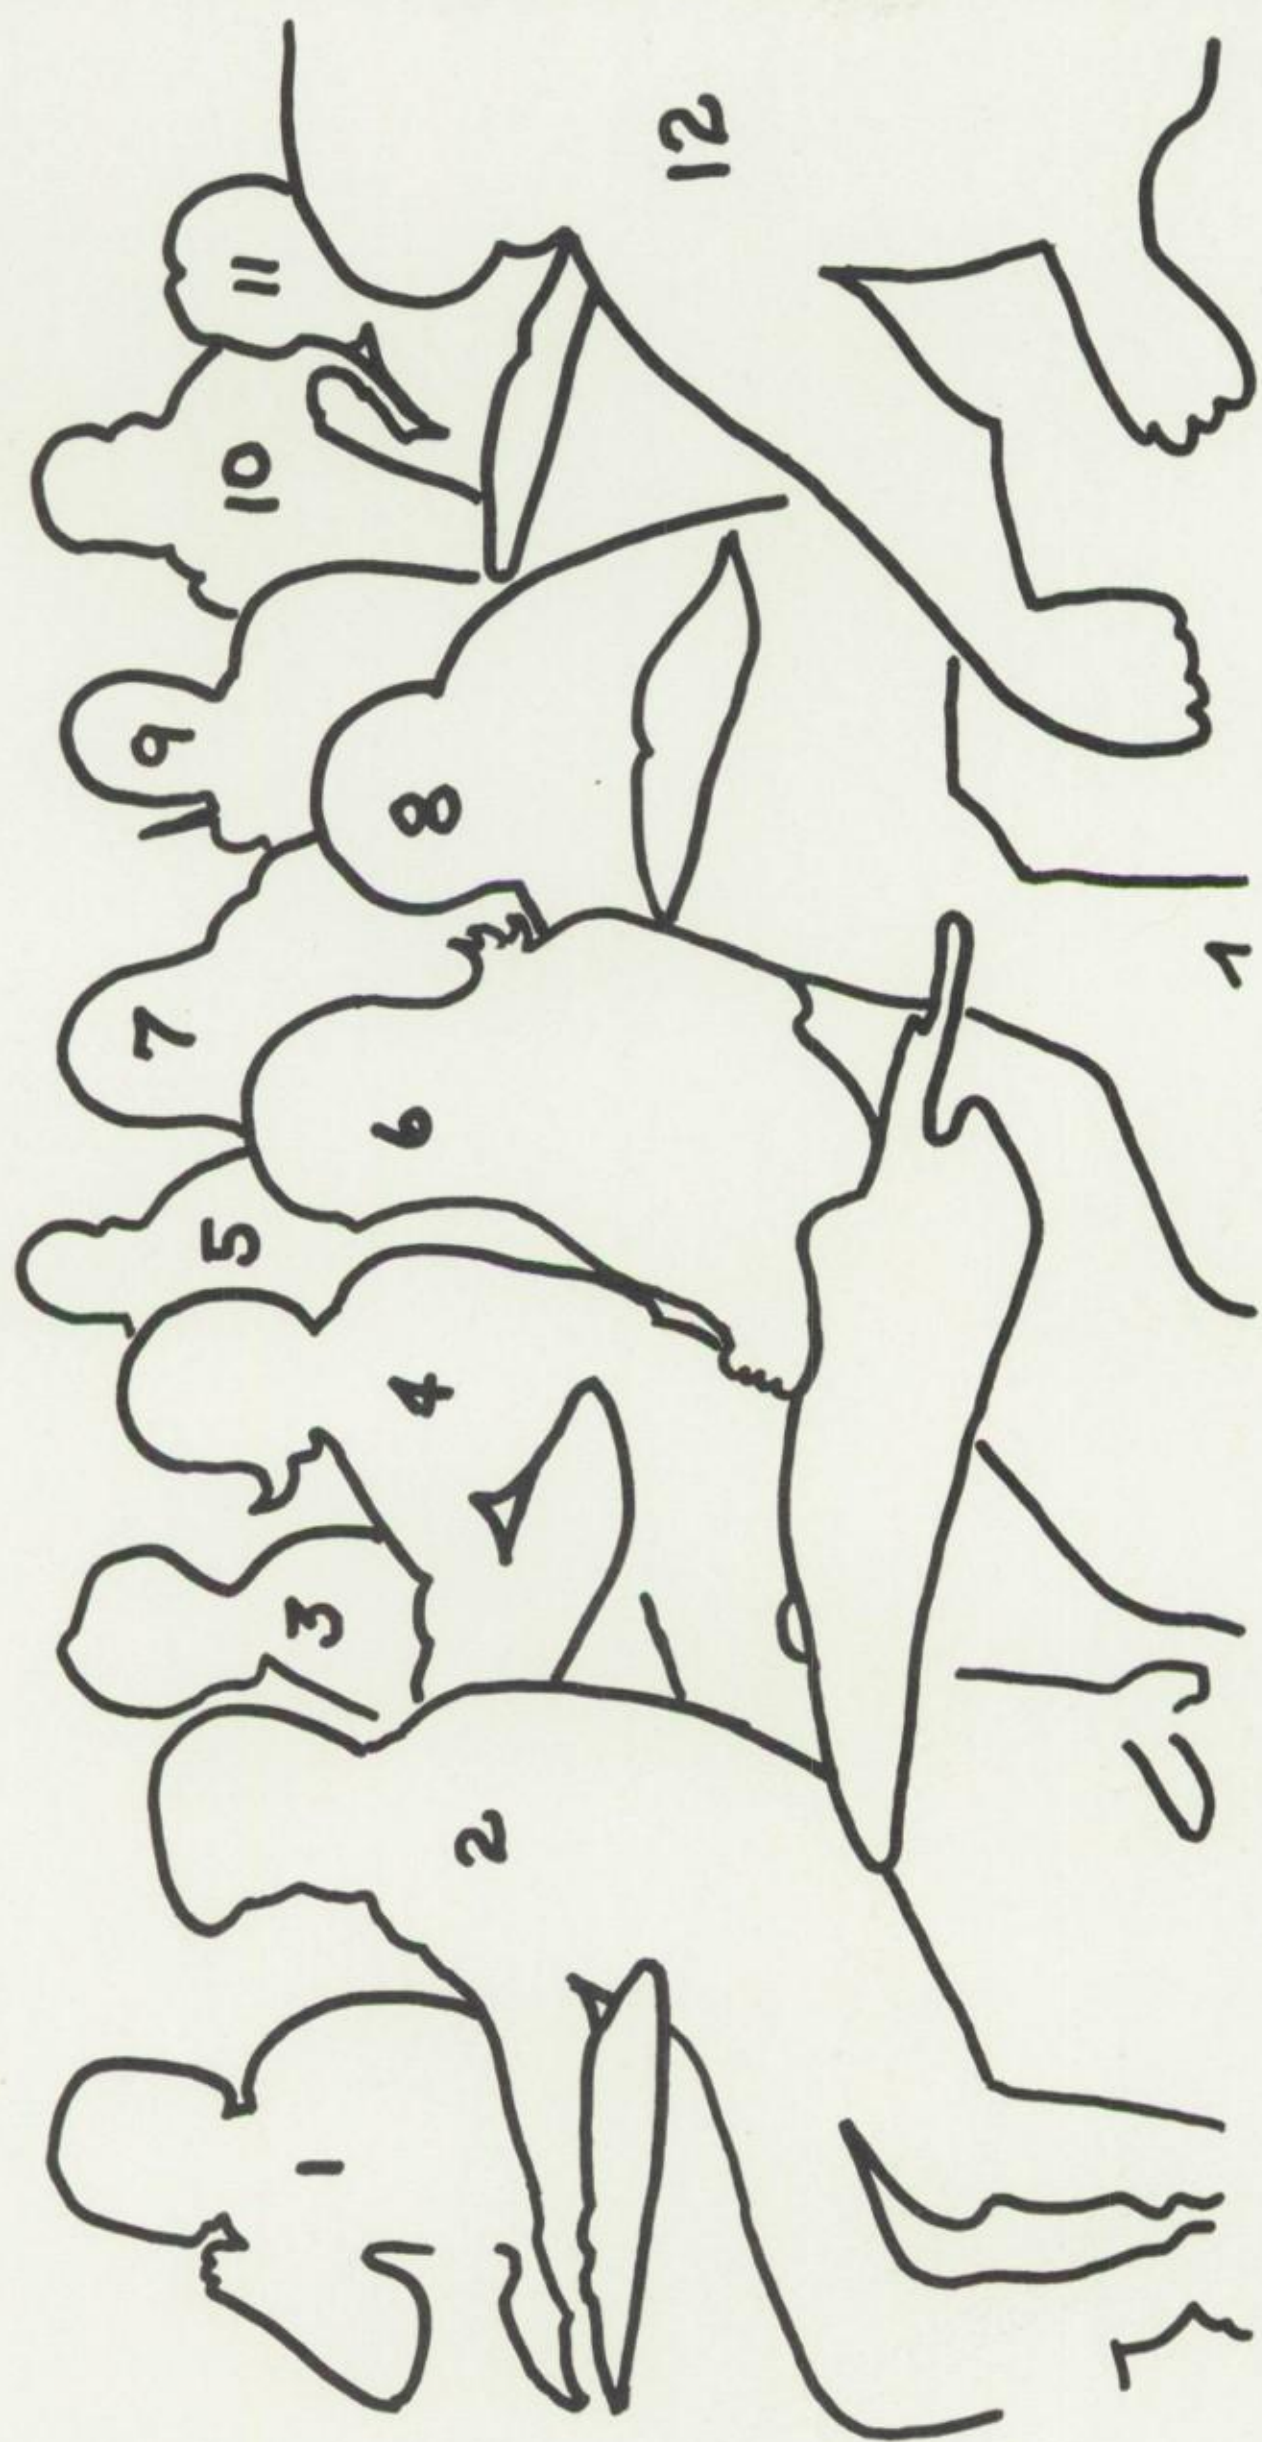

The school day has fallen into a pattern that offers little diversion. Every morning you run your car into the same old parking space, wrestle with an antique locker, and pledge your allegiance to an America that seems unconcerned about the future of its youth. Life has become so "advanced", so balanced and automatized, that you feel like a number instead of a person with a name. It's like living in a fish bowl, like putting together a puzzle without all the pieces, like playing a game you can't win. Who cares? When you say that, when you say "Who cares?", you are really saying "I don't care. I am not concerned about the outcome of this happening because I feel happy, or mad, or both, or neither." Not caring is not a crime. In fact, it is sometimes the only way you can make it sanely through the day, through the numbers and fish bowls and puzzles and unwinnable games. Who Cares?

Greer High does.

It's easy to laugh and say "Who cares?", but it certainly helps to have someone who is concerned about the problems of your day, about the missing puzzle pieces and impossible games. Greer High cares. Through its teachers, guidance counselors, and administrators you are constantly aware that someone knows how your day is going and really cares what the outcome will be. Greer High does things, both routine and special, that show the school's concern for its students. Familiar happenings, like class elections and choral concerts, supply the needed amount of sameness that brings about security in school life. Special events, like Ring Day and Spiro Agnew's visit, provide enough diversion to make the common happenings of the day welcome. Greer High does care. Greer High does

August 26, 1970 First Day of School

This year over 1,320 students and 62 teachers including 17 new ones and a new school nurse greeted the first day of school at Greer High. The first full school year that the new wing was in use, this term also required the use of eight portables to accommodate the many new students who were at Greer High for the first time, both freshmen and students from the former Lincoln High. Seventeen buses were needed this year for the enrollment increased because of the desegregation act of last February. Students were given a list of fees for the year which included optional insurance, $2.50, newspaper, $2.00, and the first annual payment, $4.00. This year students were not required to pay activity or locker fees.

August 28, 1970 First Full School day

A new school dietician, Mr. William King, planned hamburgers and french fries as the first lunch of the school year. For the first time lunch menus were announced over the P.A. system along with the morning announcements.

The Coke Company donated 200 cases of Coke to the High school to be sold at $3.00 each. Proceeds went to build new restrooms for the stadium.

September 1, 1970 Nominations for Senior Beauties

Each senior was asked to nominate ten senior girls, the top twenty of whom participated in the Miss Le Flambeau Pageant. The following girls were nominated: Pam Ammons, Anne Marie Bright, Pam Belue, Perrin Cox, Debbie Duncan, Paulette Garrett, Caprice Henderson, Kaja Henderson, Donna Hannon, Olivia Johnson, Barby Lury, Connie McCraw, Alice Lee, Pam Polson, Darlene Shaw, Susan Solesbee, Debbie Smith, Yvonne Smith, Marva Sullivan, and Lynne Satterfield.

September 2, 1970 Nominations for Class Presidents

Each student nominated one person for class president, and the following students were selected to run for president: freshmen - Phyllis Burnette, Riley Owens, and Pearce Williams; sophomores - Tommy Kay, Mike Lynn, and Tony Williams; juniors - Randy McCullen, Keith Trout, and Libby Wallace; seniors - Greg Vaughn, Bobby Kay, and Ricky Jenkins.

September 3, 1970 Bi-racial Committee

In order to assure each student representation on the student council and in accordance with Greenville County school policy, students were asked to make nominations for a bi-racial committee of students. Each white student nominated one white from his class, and each black student nominated one black from his class to serve on this special committee, organized to serve along with the student council in order to assure equal opportunities for all students in school activities. Miss Golden was the advisor of this committee, and Mrs. Hayes served as co-advisor. The following students were elected: freshmen, Gloria Jackson and Riley Owens; sophomores, Mike Lynn and Linda Wallace; juniors, Keith Trout and Calvin Grayson; and seniors, Stanley Burnette and Reggie Chesson.

September 3, 1970 Pep Rally

The first pep rally of the football season was held after school in the Citizens and Southern National Bank parking lot. Students assembled in the school parking lot and drove down Main Street to the bank behind the fire truck and the band. After cheering, the students watched as Pam Polson, head cheerleader, replaced the eagle on the bank's weather vane with a yellow jacket.

September 4, 1970 Code of Discipline

As a result of expressed interest of the citizens of Greenville County, the Board of Trustees of the school district requested the administration to formulate a uniform code of discipline. The Board of Trustees also directed that a copy of certain parts of the code be given to all students and parents in order that it would serve as a guide to good school citizenship. The guidelines set forth in the Code of Discipline (which included articles on the legal authority for discipline in South Carolina, standards of pupil conduct, non-students on school grounds, and responsibilities) were to help students, parents, school personnel, and members of the Board of Trustees to maintain and preserve order and discipline in the schools so that pupils could achieve their maximum educational development. Parts of the code were read to the students during afternoon announcements for several days.

Steering committee heads, Mrs. Wallace, Mr. James, Miss Ballenger, Mrs. Harriet Smith, Mrs. Gaston, Mrs. Gregory, and Mrs. Margie Collins, prepare material for the school evaluation which was postponed from fall '71 until fall '72.

Mrs. Gaston, who led in the organization of the school book store, sells a book to Cathy Smith and Dwayne Black.

September 7, 1970 Labor Day Holiday

A three-day weekend was welcomed by students for a last summer fling.

September 9, 1970 Nominations for Underclass Beauties

Underclassmen were asked to nominate girls to participate in the Miss Le Flambeau Pageant. The following students were nominated: freshmen: Jean Earley, Jane Ford, Wanda Hatcher, Janet Lister, Ginny Lynn, and Gloria Williams; sophomores: Rhonda Eledge, Nella James, Nancy Walker, Linda Wallace, Shirley Wolfe, and Connie Young; juniors: Kim Burchett, Alicia Drummond, Marilyn Grubbs, Margaret An Hazle, Rita Howell, Judy Odom, Nancy Page, Debbie Parris, Jeryl Ribak, Libby Wallace, and Linda Wood.

September 8, 1970 Class Pictures

For the first time this year class pictures were made during school. Students, who were required to wear either coat and tie or blouse and sweater, were asked to report to have their pictures made during their study hall or after school. This year underclassmen were offered a large package of pictures which included an 8x10 for $6.00, and seniors had the opportunity to order professionally finished pictures for $14.95, $22.95, and $29.95 from proofs which they could also buy.

September 10, 1970 Class Presidents Elected

The following students were elected as class presidents: freshman, Pearce Williams; sophomores, Tony Williams; junior, Keith Trout; and senior, Bobby Kay.

September 14, 1970 Book Store

A paper-back book store was opened under the direction of Mrs. Gaston for the purpose of supplying paper-back books from the reading list and school materials to students conveniently. The store was opened before school and during sixth period every day and all day Tuesdays and Thursdays.

September 15, Seniors Start Ring Payments

Seniors were asked to make their final ring payment, the first of which was made the previous spring. Payments varied from $18.00 to over $20.00 depending on the weight of the ring.

September 16, 1970 Mrs. Brown Leaves

Mrs. Brown, a physical education and civics teacher, was forced to leave her position at Greer High because there were too few students for the proper student-teacher ratio. Her classes were divided among other classes, and Mrs. Golden, one of the guidance counselors, took over her sixth period gym class.

September 22, 1970 "Toys for Tots" Committee

A planning meeting was held for a "Toys for Tots" talent show to be held later in the year. The first twenty people to sign up were to be accepted to participate in the talent show. Admission, which was one toy, would supply Christmas presents for needy children.

September 23, 1970 Ring Day

Seniors were called by homerooms to the auditorium at 1:14 to receive their high school rings. After giving a talk on the value of a high school education, Mr. Frick presented Bobby Kay, Senior Class president, with the first ring. Following a talk by Mrs. Hayes on the senior ring, homeroom presidents distributed rings to the rest of the senior class. The seniors counted to seventy-one and put on their long-awaited rings.

September 25, 1970 Nominations for Class Homecoming Sponsors

The following girls were nominated by their classes to compete for Class Homecoming sponsor: seniors - Perrin Coxe, Faurtina Jackson, Paulette Garrett, Alice Lee, Pam Polson, and Debbie Smith; juniors - Rita Howell, Edna Miller, and Linda Wood; sophomores - Phyllis Bruton, Vicki Hardin, and Susan McElrath; and freshmen - Jean Earley, Janet Lister, and Wanda Hatcher. Elected from those nominees were: seniors - Alice Lee, Perrin Coxe, and Pam Polson; junior - Rita Howell; sophomore - Vicki Hardin; and freshman - Jean Earley. Homecoming queen, held after school from 3:30 until 5:30, was open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. This time period included three thirty-minute periods in which a student could visit the college representative of his choosing for a lecture and question-and-answer period. Written material and other aides were available in the sessions held by most of the major state colleges and a few out-of-state colleges.

October 7, 1970 Class Officer Elections

This year a new office, student council representative, was created as one of the class offices. The four classes elected their class officers from the following nominees: seniors - Nancy Cox, Perrin Coxe, Ernie Denny, Paulette Garrett, Shirley Henson, Ricky Jenkins, Clark Nesbitt, Bo Roe, and Greg Vaughn; juniors - Margaret An Hazle, Calvin Grayson, Barry Huey, Edna Miller, Randy McCullen, Debbie Parris, Chip Patat, Eddie Shirley, Libby Wallace, and Linda Wood; sophomores - Mike Lynn, Tommy Kay, Freddie Harley, Phyllis Bruton, Nella James, Susan McElrath, Carolyn Rice, Rhonda Eledge, Nancy Walker, and Shirley Wolfe; and freshmen - Phyllis Burnette, Jacquelyn Beacham, Jane Ford, Jean Earley, Wanda Hatcher, Joe Hudson, Lisa Ledford, Janet Lister, Riley Owens, and Gloria Williams. Elected as officers for the 1970-71 term were: seniors - Greg Vaughn, vice-president; Perrin Coxe, secretary; Bo Roe, treasurer; and Clark Nesbitt, student council representative; juniors - Eddie Shirley, vice-president; Edna Miller, secretary; Chip Patat, treasurer; and Barry Huey, student council representative; sophomores - Tommy Kay, vice-president; Mike Lynn, secretary; Susan McElrath, treasurer; and Phyllis Bruton, student council representative; and freshmen - Joe Hudson, vice-president; Jean Earley, secretary; Jacquelyn Beacham, treasurer; and Janet Lister, student council representative.

October 9, 1970 Black and Gold Day

Although the school did not order any homecoming accessories, hats and badges that had been ordered in previous years were worn along with the black and gold outfits for Black and Gold Day. The Homecoming game was postponed because of rain until November 6.

October 10, 1970 Exchange Students Leave for New York

Six students from Greer High, Pam Ammons, Robert Mack, Barry Huey, Marva Sullivan, John Lanford, and Randy McCullen, took part in the first North-South cultural exchange program under the joint sponsorship of the Greenville County School District and the Liberty Cooperation. The students, who were paired with host students from Washington Irving High School in Tarrytown, New York, were accompanied by Mrs. Hayes and W. H. Chastain, the principal of Hillcrest High School. Planning a two-week stay, the students left on a plane from the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport and were expected to return with their former hosts on October 24.

October 12, 1970 FFA Convention

Billy Westmoreland, president of the Greer High FFA chapter, was selected to represent his chapter of the FFA at the national FFA convention which was held at Kansas City, Missouri on October 13-14.

October 14, 1970 National Merit Coaching

A meeting was held for all freshmen, sophomores, and attendant, and Senior Class sponsor remained a secret until the Homecoming game.

September 26, 1970 Miss Le Flambeau Pageant

Forty-three girls competed for the titles of class beauty and Miss Le Flambeau among cotton bales and draped cotton material which conveyed the Tri-centennial theme of the pageant. Chosen as Freshman Beauty was Wanda Hatcher; Sophomore Beauty, Connie Young; and Junior Beauties, Debbie Parris and Libby Wallace. For the senior contestants the pageant really began that afternoon at a tea where they met and talked with judges. The ten senior finalists were: Donna Hannon, Susan Solesbee, Debbie Smith, Paulette Garrett, Marva Sullivan, Lynne Satterfield, Yvonne Smith, Alice Lee, Caprice Henderson, and Pam Ammons. The three Senior Beauties selected from these ten were Susan Solesbee, Debbie Smith, and Donna Hannon.

juniors who planned to take the National Merit Scholarship Test and who were interested in attending coaching sessions. These sessions for Greenville County students were scheduled this year for the first time by a committee aimed at upgrading the number of recipients of awards in this national honors program. Special tutorial sessions were held two afternoons a week with one devoted to English, the verbal areas, and the other to mathematics, the non-verbal or quantitative area. At Greer High these sessions were held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 3:15 with Mrs. Dobson and Mr. Beason.

October 2 - 21, 1970 Magazine Sale

This year's junior class set a higher goal than any other class, $5,000.00, and reached it. The total sales amounted to $5,136.96 with Derrick Hester being the top salesman with $205.75. The next four high salesmen, who won a prize along with Derrick, were Ben Holder, Donna Crenshaw, Chip Patat, and Sybil Rochester. Thirty-five people sold 50 percent magazines and got a school mascot. Mrs. McKown's homeroom, 11-4, was high homeroom for the sale. Students who sold a "Life" magazine got a free mod poster of their choice. The proceeds of the magazine sale went to finance Junior-Senior.

October 24, 1970 PSAT and NEDT

Freshmen and sophomores were allowed to take the National Educational Development Tests in the cafeteria

if they wanted to do so. Fourteen freshmen and two sophomores placed in the finalists in the tests. Those finalists, who scored in the ninetieth percentile or above were: Howard Mitchell, Melissa Riordan, James Black, Felicia Edwards, Jane Ford, Robert Foster, Tommy Hayes, Betsy Homewood, Frank Hooper, Riley Owens, Deborah Powell, Kristy Servies, Andrea Snow, Louise Sullivan, Harrison Trammell, and Glenda Tuck.

Juniors who wanted to take the preliminary College Board tests met in portables two and three. From those being tested Furman Scholars are selected as the two highest scoring boys and the two highest girls. Those chosen were Wryley Bettis, Sydna Elrod, Vicki Hairston, and Mark Smith.

October 25-31 Tri-Centennial Week

The devotionals were on S.C. history each day during Tri-Centennial week. Some of Mrs. McKenzie's students decorated the bulletin board on a tri-centennial theme, and the display window was decorated by Mrs. Marjorie Collins' students with models dressed in early S.C. costumes.

Irving High in Tarrytown, N.Y. were present for their first day of school at Greer High. They returned with their student hosts from Greer on October 24 at the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport and spent two weeks with their former guests. The N.Y. students were: Gwendolyn Carter, Peter Schermerhorn, Dennis Burkhardt, Jonathan James, Edward Goldberg, and Jane Zimmermon. The N.Y. students were in charge of the devotionals the second week of their stay. One of the students, Gwendolyn Carter, expressed her thanks to the students and teachers for their friendliness. She also mentioned how different the education, privileges and teachers were from those in New York.

October 26, 1970 Spiro Agnew in Greenville

Vice-president Spiro Agnew arrived near noon at the Greenville-Spartanburg airport and rode in front of a long train of admirers to the Greenville Memorial Auditorium for a luncheon and rally. He spent about twenty minutes at lunch with the three-hundred and fifty persons who paid ten dollars each to eat with the vice-president. After lunch he spoke for more than a half hour at a political rally for GOP candidates. Seven thousand people, half of whom were school students, followed Agnew to the auditorium where there were no more seats. A few protestors gathered outside the auditorium but caused no trouble.

October 28, 1970 Tri - Centennial Dress-up Day

In celebration of Tri-Centennial Week, students could wear early South Carolinian costumes or red, white, and blue outfits. Each homeroom nominated one representative from that homeroom to participate in a contest to select the ten best Tri-centennial costumes. The following were selected as the ten best dressed by the judges, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Genevieve Collins, and Mrs. McKown: Don Adams, Debbie Duncan, Jane Ford, Vicki Hardin, Candi Harrington, Margaret An Hazle, Rita Howell, Pam Polson, Teresa Roddy, and Libby Wallace.

October 28, 1970 New Dress Code

At a meeting of the dress committee at the beginning of fifth period, it was decided that girls could wear slacks or pants suits to school under subjection of the following rules: "No jeans or fatigues shall be permitted. No stretch pants, sweat shirts, or cut-offs shall be worn. Blouses must be tucked in at all times." Violation of these rules could have led to disciplinary action and the withdrawal of the privilege of wearing slacks to school. This modification of the dress code was effective November 2, 1970 - April 1, 1971.

November 6, 1970 Homecoming

The Homecoming game in which Greer was defeated by Carolina with a 13-24 score was brought to a climax when Alice Lee was crowned Homecoming Queen by the football co-captains, Bo Roe and Tom Johnson. Perrin Coxie was named Senior Class sponsor, and Pam Polson was attendant to the queen in the stadium which was decorated with a huge replica of a Yellow Jacket football player dedicated to the seniors of '71. A large crowd cheered the Jackets on in their game with the Trojans which was close until the end.

November 10, 1970 Ombudsmen

A new school-paid official whose duty is "to act in behalf of students, teachers, or citizens of the community who believe their rights concerning education have been denied" was appointed. The ombudsmen kept Superintendent Floyd Hall informed about opinions and actions regarding public schools. Students with grievances could obtain a conference with an ombudsman through Mr. Frick or by calling the school district office.

November 11-30, 1970 Candy Sale

In this year's candy sale the high salesmen over a period of two weeks were awarded cash prizes, and the top salesman from each class at the end of the sale was given a ten-dollar cash prize. The candy was distributed during fifth and sixth periods on November 11 and 12. The high salesman from each class was: freshman, Field Ledford; sophomore, Phyllis Bruton; junior, Wayne Merrit; and senior, Donna Lesley. Mrs. Wallace's homeroom, 12-3, was high homeroom for the sale. The school made a profit of about $1,800 which was used for the individual class treasures.

November 14, All State Chorus

Try-outs for All State Chorus were held at 4:00 at Parker High School. Of the twenty junior and senior chorus students who tried out, three students, Bobby McCuen, Mary Larke Morgan, and Jason Smith, were selected for membership.

November 19, 1970 South Carolina Speech Tournament

Three speech students from Greer High, Gary Hattabough, Mike Moss, and Tony Stewart, were selected by their speech class to participate in the South Carolina Speech Association's Annual Speech and Drama Tournament held at Columbia College. Each boy participated in two of five events: memorized oratory, memorized interpretation, radio announcing, duet acting, and extemporaneous speaking. Tony Stewart won first place in extemporaneous speaking. Greer High's entries were part of over two hundred students from throughout the state who attended.

November 23, 1970 Powderpuff Football Game

In the Powderpuff game, which had been postponed from November 19 because of rain, the Seniors scored a 12-7 victory over the GAA. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Powderpuff King, Buddy Kinard, who was chosen from the following senior cheerleaders: Ricky Jenkins, John Lanford, Joey Adams, Denny Hughes, and Randy Wright. Buddy was escorted by Ernie Denny as Mr. Frick. David Foster served as announcer, and Bobby Kay, Freddie Lindley, and Jeff Bradley were officials.

November 23, 1970 "Toys for Tots" Campaign

The official beginning of the "Toys for Tots" drive marked the third year that Greer High had participated in the campaign. Toys which were in good condition or could be repaired were brought to the homeroom presidents, who took them to the gym.

The campaign was closed with a talent show which charged one toy or one dollar as admission. Gary Hattabough and Danny Sims acted as masters of ceremonies for the show featuring a variety of performances by Greer High talent. The winning act was a version of "Leaving on a Jet Plane" by Rick Jenkins and Bo Roe. Robert Alverson took second place honors with a piano medley of popular tunes. Third place went to Clark Nesbitt whose dramatization of "The Creation" from God's Trombones made judging difficult for Miss Betty Tarrant, Miss Cheryl Wilson, Mr. Jimmy Pearson, Maj. Sayers, and Mrs. Nancy Price. Two truck loads of toys and $108.00 were included in the profits made to help make a more enjoyable Christmas for many under privileged children.

November 26-27 Thanksgiving Holidays

The traditional two-day Thanksgiving holiday was welcomed by all students as a needed break in the school term.

December 1, 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow

A test was conducted during second period in Miss Cole's office for all senior girls who wanted to try out for the Betty Crocker Award. The award was won by Margaret Vaughn.

December 1, 1970 Christmas Parade

Seven bands and seventy-five floats made up this year's Christmas parade sponsored by the Greer Jaycees and the Greer Downtown Merchants Association. For the first time the cheerleaders rode on a float by the Citizens and Southern National Bank. First place in the band competition went to Parker High; Wade Hampton took second place and Blue Ridge, third.

December 3, 1970 Football Banquet

Jeff Bradley and Tom Johnson were named co-captains of the football team at the 1970 Football Banquet. The following awards were presented to the respective players: Most Valuable, Dwight Beasley; Sportsmanship, Keith Trout; Best Blocker, Eddie Shirley; and Best Defensive, Randy Massengill. The banquet, sponsored by the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, featured as guest speaker Coach "Hootie" Ingram of Clemson University.

December 4-5, 1970 Singing Christmas Tree

Several Greer High seniors participated in the Greenville Rotary Club's presentation of the Singing Christmas Tree program held in the Memorial Auditorium. Marva Sullivan, Susan Solesbee, and Paula Gordon were among the more than one hundred voices that comprised the Christmas tree. Jeanie Price was a member of the seventy-piece Crescent Youth Symphony Orchestra.

December 9, 1970 Band Wins Competition

The Greer High band won first place in the band competition in the Woodruff Christmas parade. Steve Gahagan also won first place in the drum major competition.

December 11, 1970 Youth Council

Four students from Greer High, Alicia Drummond Pam Ammons, Nancy Cox, and Clark Nesbitt, attended a meeting of the Greenville County Youth Council. The council was started for the purpose of helping to organize youth groups and projects.

December 15, 1970 Term Paper Instruction Book

During the past year the junior and senior English teachers developed a standard term paper form acceptable to all departments in the school. This instruction booklet was published so that students could avoid confusion and maintain consistency in their writing mechanics.

December 18, 1970 Fellowship of Christian Athletes

The first meeting of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was held in the gym at 7:00 p.m. An optional membership fee of $2.00 was charged. The FCA, which was organized in order to instigate christian competition between athletes, was advised by Coach Sudduth.

December 19, 1970-January 4, 1971 Christmas Holidays

The longest Christmas holiday for some time, this year's winter vacation included two weeks and three weekends. On December 29 the first snowfall of the season was recorded as three inches of snow and ice which accumulated over a period of three days.

January 7, 1971 Senior Honor Society Induction

This year, because of the large number of students in the junior class, more juniors were qualified to be inducted into the Senior Honor Society than the percentage allowed to be taken in. Twenty-eight juniors and seven seniors were inducted into the society in a candle-lighting ceremony. For the first time parents were seated in the audience, and their names were called as their child lit his candle.

January 13-15, 1971 Exams

For the second year an exam schedule was observed at the end of the first semester throughout the Greenville County. For three days students attended two two-hour exam periods. Exam days were divided by a one-hour lunch break during which the student could eat lunch wherever he wished.

January 21-22, 1971 Try-outs for School Play

Try-outs were held each afternoon after school for students who wished to take part in the school play, "Up the Down Staircase". The twelve male and eighteen female roles were quickly filled by eager students whom Miss Fant, the director, chose on the basis of their reading of a passage from the script.

February 13, 1971 National Merit

Twenty-eight students reported to the school cafeteria, pencils in hand, to take the National Merit Scholarship Test. Many of these students had been preparing since October 14, 1970 for this test, which was conducted by Miss Cole.

at Greer High, as principal, Mr. Frick announced his plans to retire at the end of the school year. During the time he served as principal of the school, he saw the enrollment more than double and saw many major changes in the school program. A graduate of Newberry College, Mr. Frick received his Master's Degree in Education from the University of South Carolina. During his forty years of teaching experience, he served as principal, superintendent, and, for his first year, teacher. While at Greer, Mr. Frick signed more than four thousand high school diplomas.

March 2, 1971 Faculty Basketball

Laughs and cheers from the spectators greeted the basketball game between the GAA and the Faculty ladies and senior girls and between the faculty men and senior boys in the gym.

March 11-12, 1971 School Play

"Up the Down Staircase", under the direction of Miss Fant, featured in its lead roles Marilyn Grubbs as Sylvia, Tony Stewart, as Joe Farone, and Clark Nesbitt as Dr. Clark. The play was a comedy about a new teacher on her first day of teaching in a poverty stricken and overcrowded New York City school, Calvin Coolidge High.

April 23, 1971 Junior-Senior Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom was held in the Memorial Auditorium under the direction of the Junior Class advisor, Mrs. Nancy Tooley. The funds provided by the Junior Class magazine sale, which were more than ever before, went into financing a memorable evening of dancing to the music of the "Soul Invaders" from Piedmont.

May 26, 1971 Graduation

The activities of Greer High were brought to a climax by Graduation. Approximately 254 students graduated in the ceremony held for the first time in Greenville Memorial Auditorium. For these seniors this was the end of the successes and failures of high school life and the beginning of further schooling for some and work for others. What Greer High did will remain in memory for the class of '71.

It's not as simple as you think.

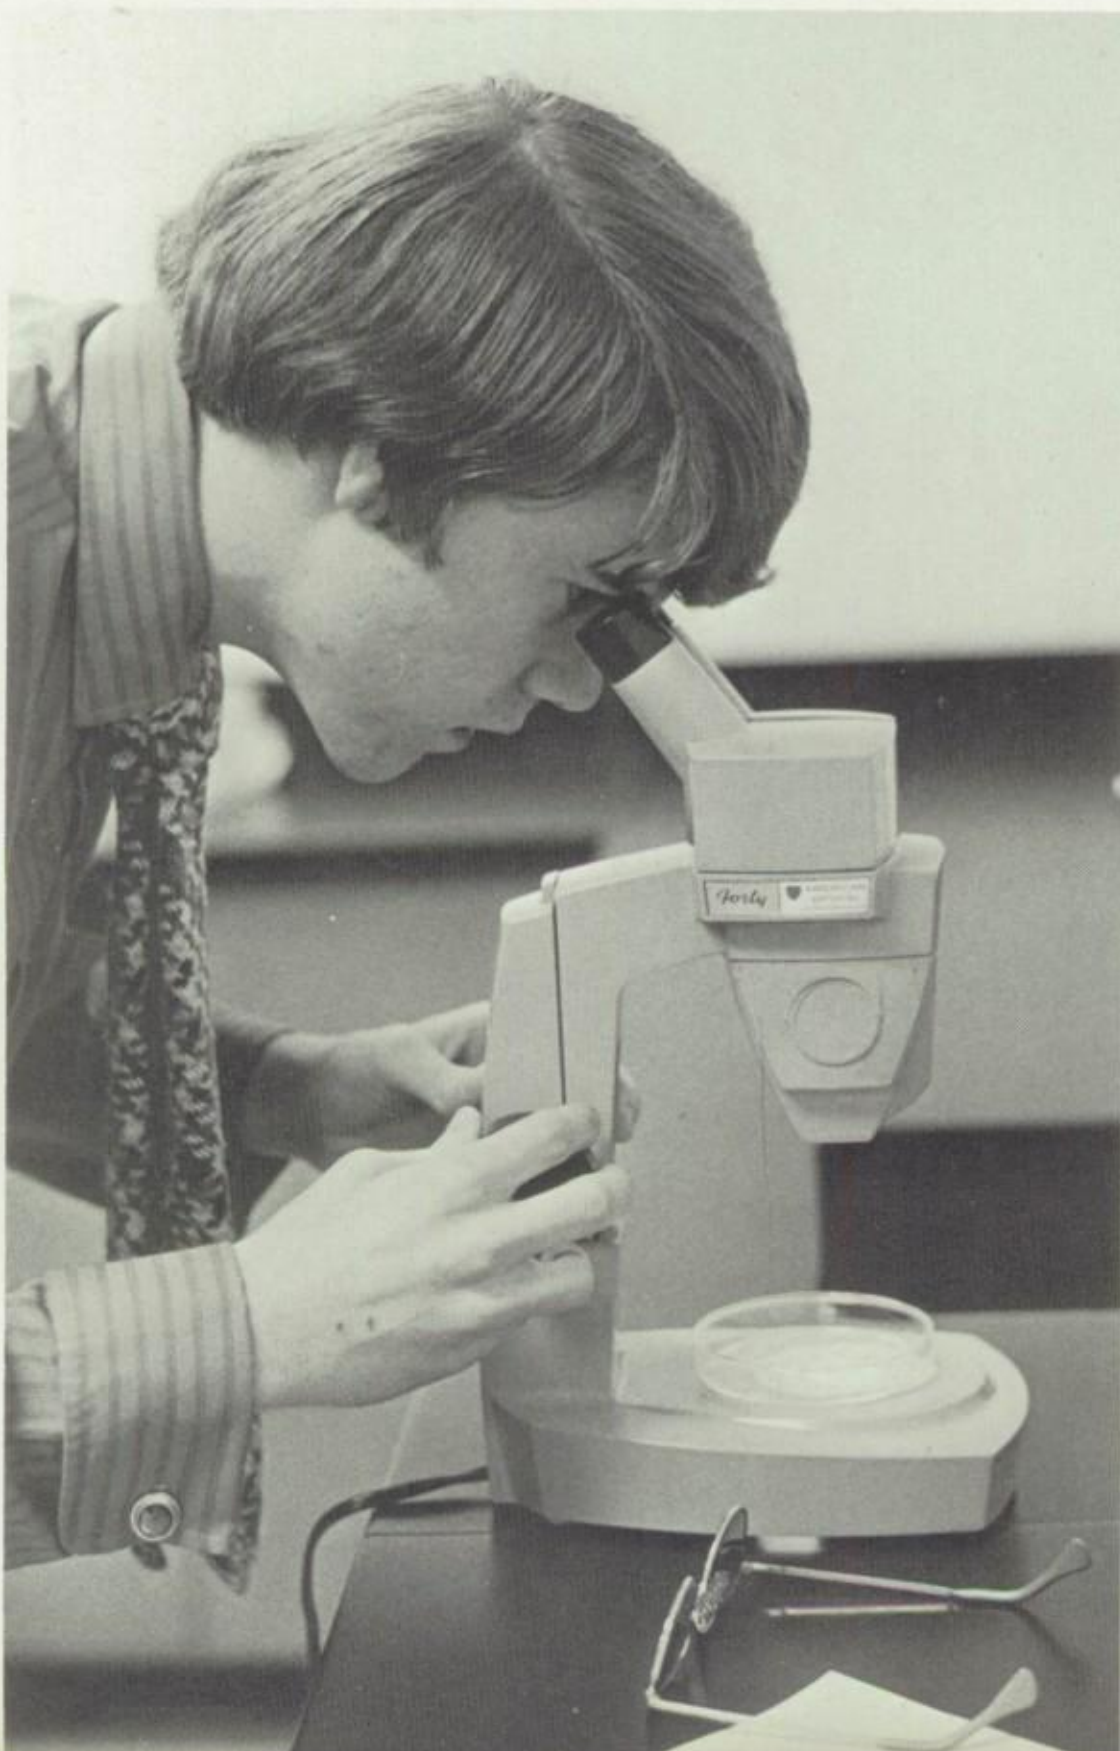

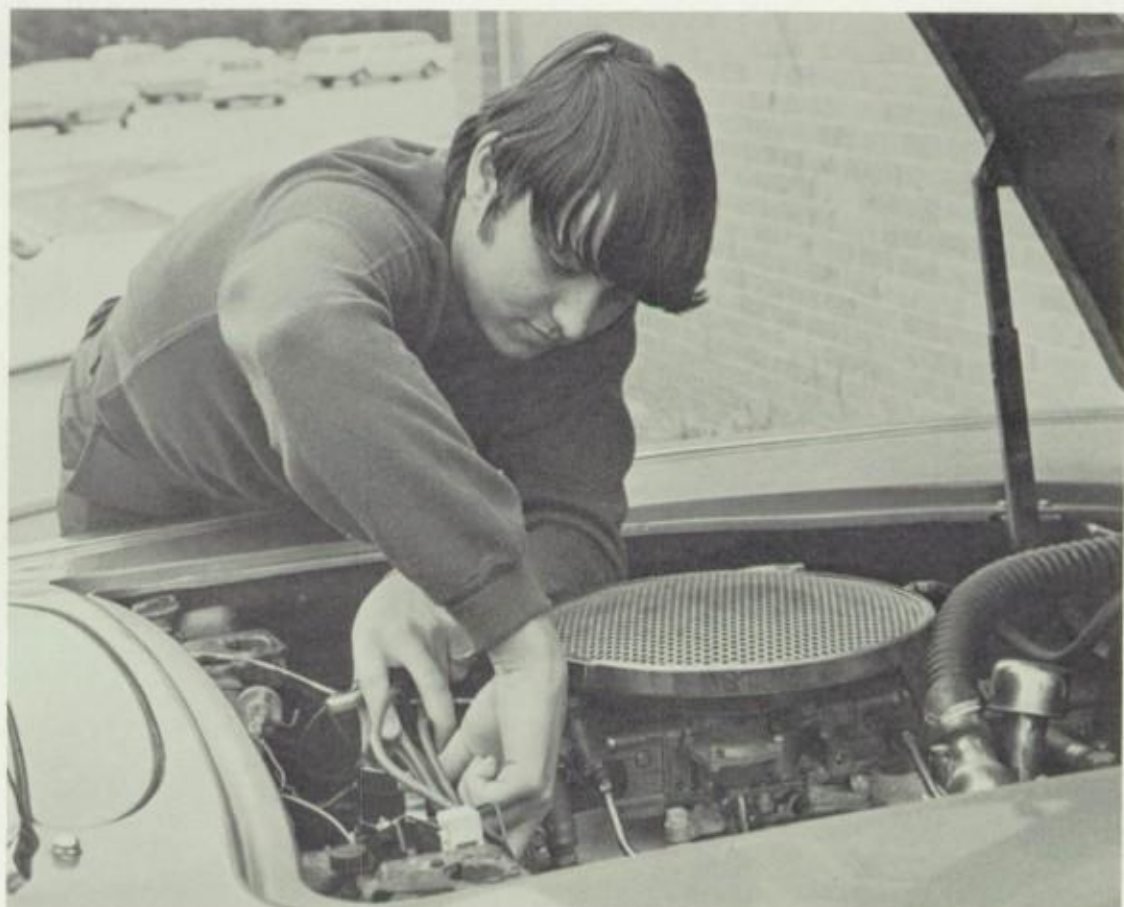

What's there to be so concerned about? Living is simple. Just doing what you're supposed to do when you're supposed to and a little you're not supposed to do. Sure. But think over your daily activities. School is one of the most nerve-racking, highest-pressure "jobs" available. People just don't realize what it's like keeping up with four to six subjects, learning, studying, and taking tests. And the outside-of-school life, the after-class time, is not too easy either. There's a lot of fun things to do like horseback riding and dancing, but there's also some not so enjoyable things to do like working and participating in sports. Simple? Think again. Living in today's society and facing all the questions of time that confront the modern youth is no easy task; "It's not as simple as you think."

"The days of our youth are the days of our glory." --
"Stanzas Written on the Road Between Florence and Pisa"

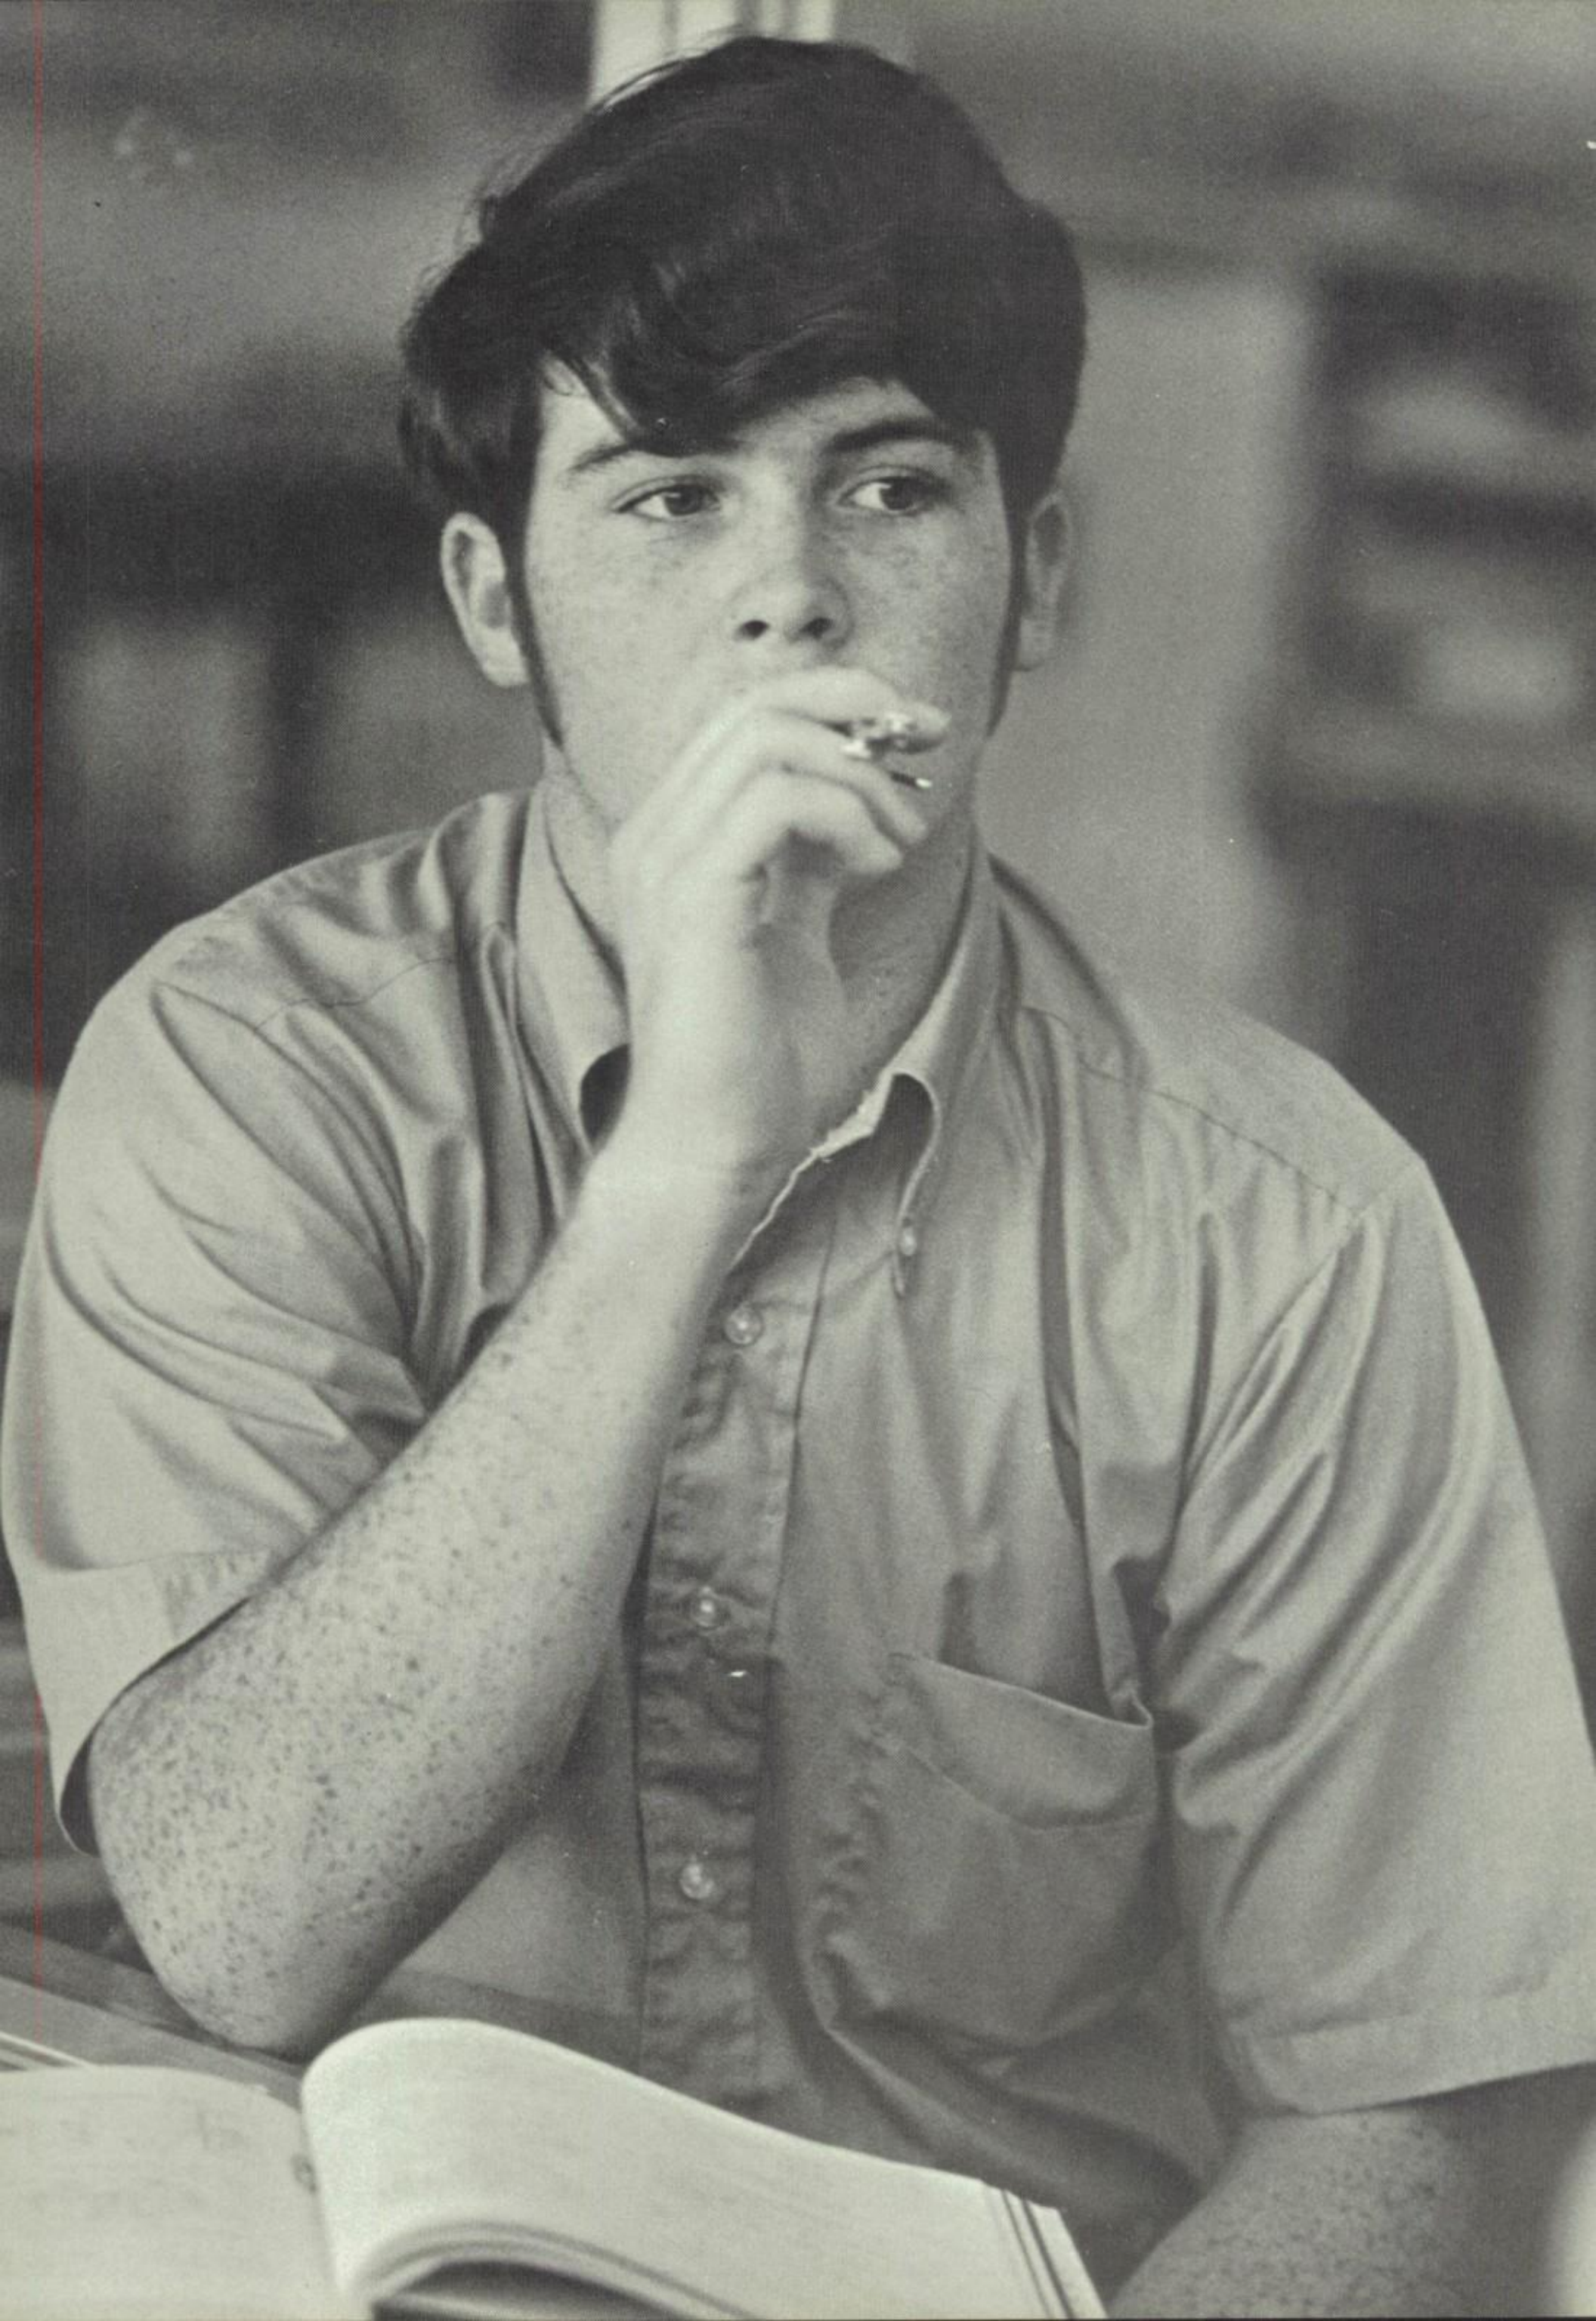

The face is familiar.

Sometimes somebody comes along to make you smile and forget the problems of the world and school. His grin breaks the monotony of the day. He may greet you with a joke or news of the latest gag he's pulled on Mrs. Smith. Maybe he will just offer you a friendly "Hi" or a willingness to listen to what you've got to say. When you glance down the crowded hall, his face stands out in the onrushing wave. Perhaps it's "personality" which makes him so noticeable, or maybe it's just because you know him, because his face is familiar. The face of Greer High is like that too. It offers a little friendly consolation, a little warmth, when you feel deserted. There are times when the building itself can encourage you along because it's become a learned part of your day, because it's, well, familiar.

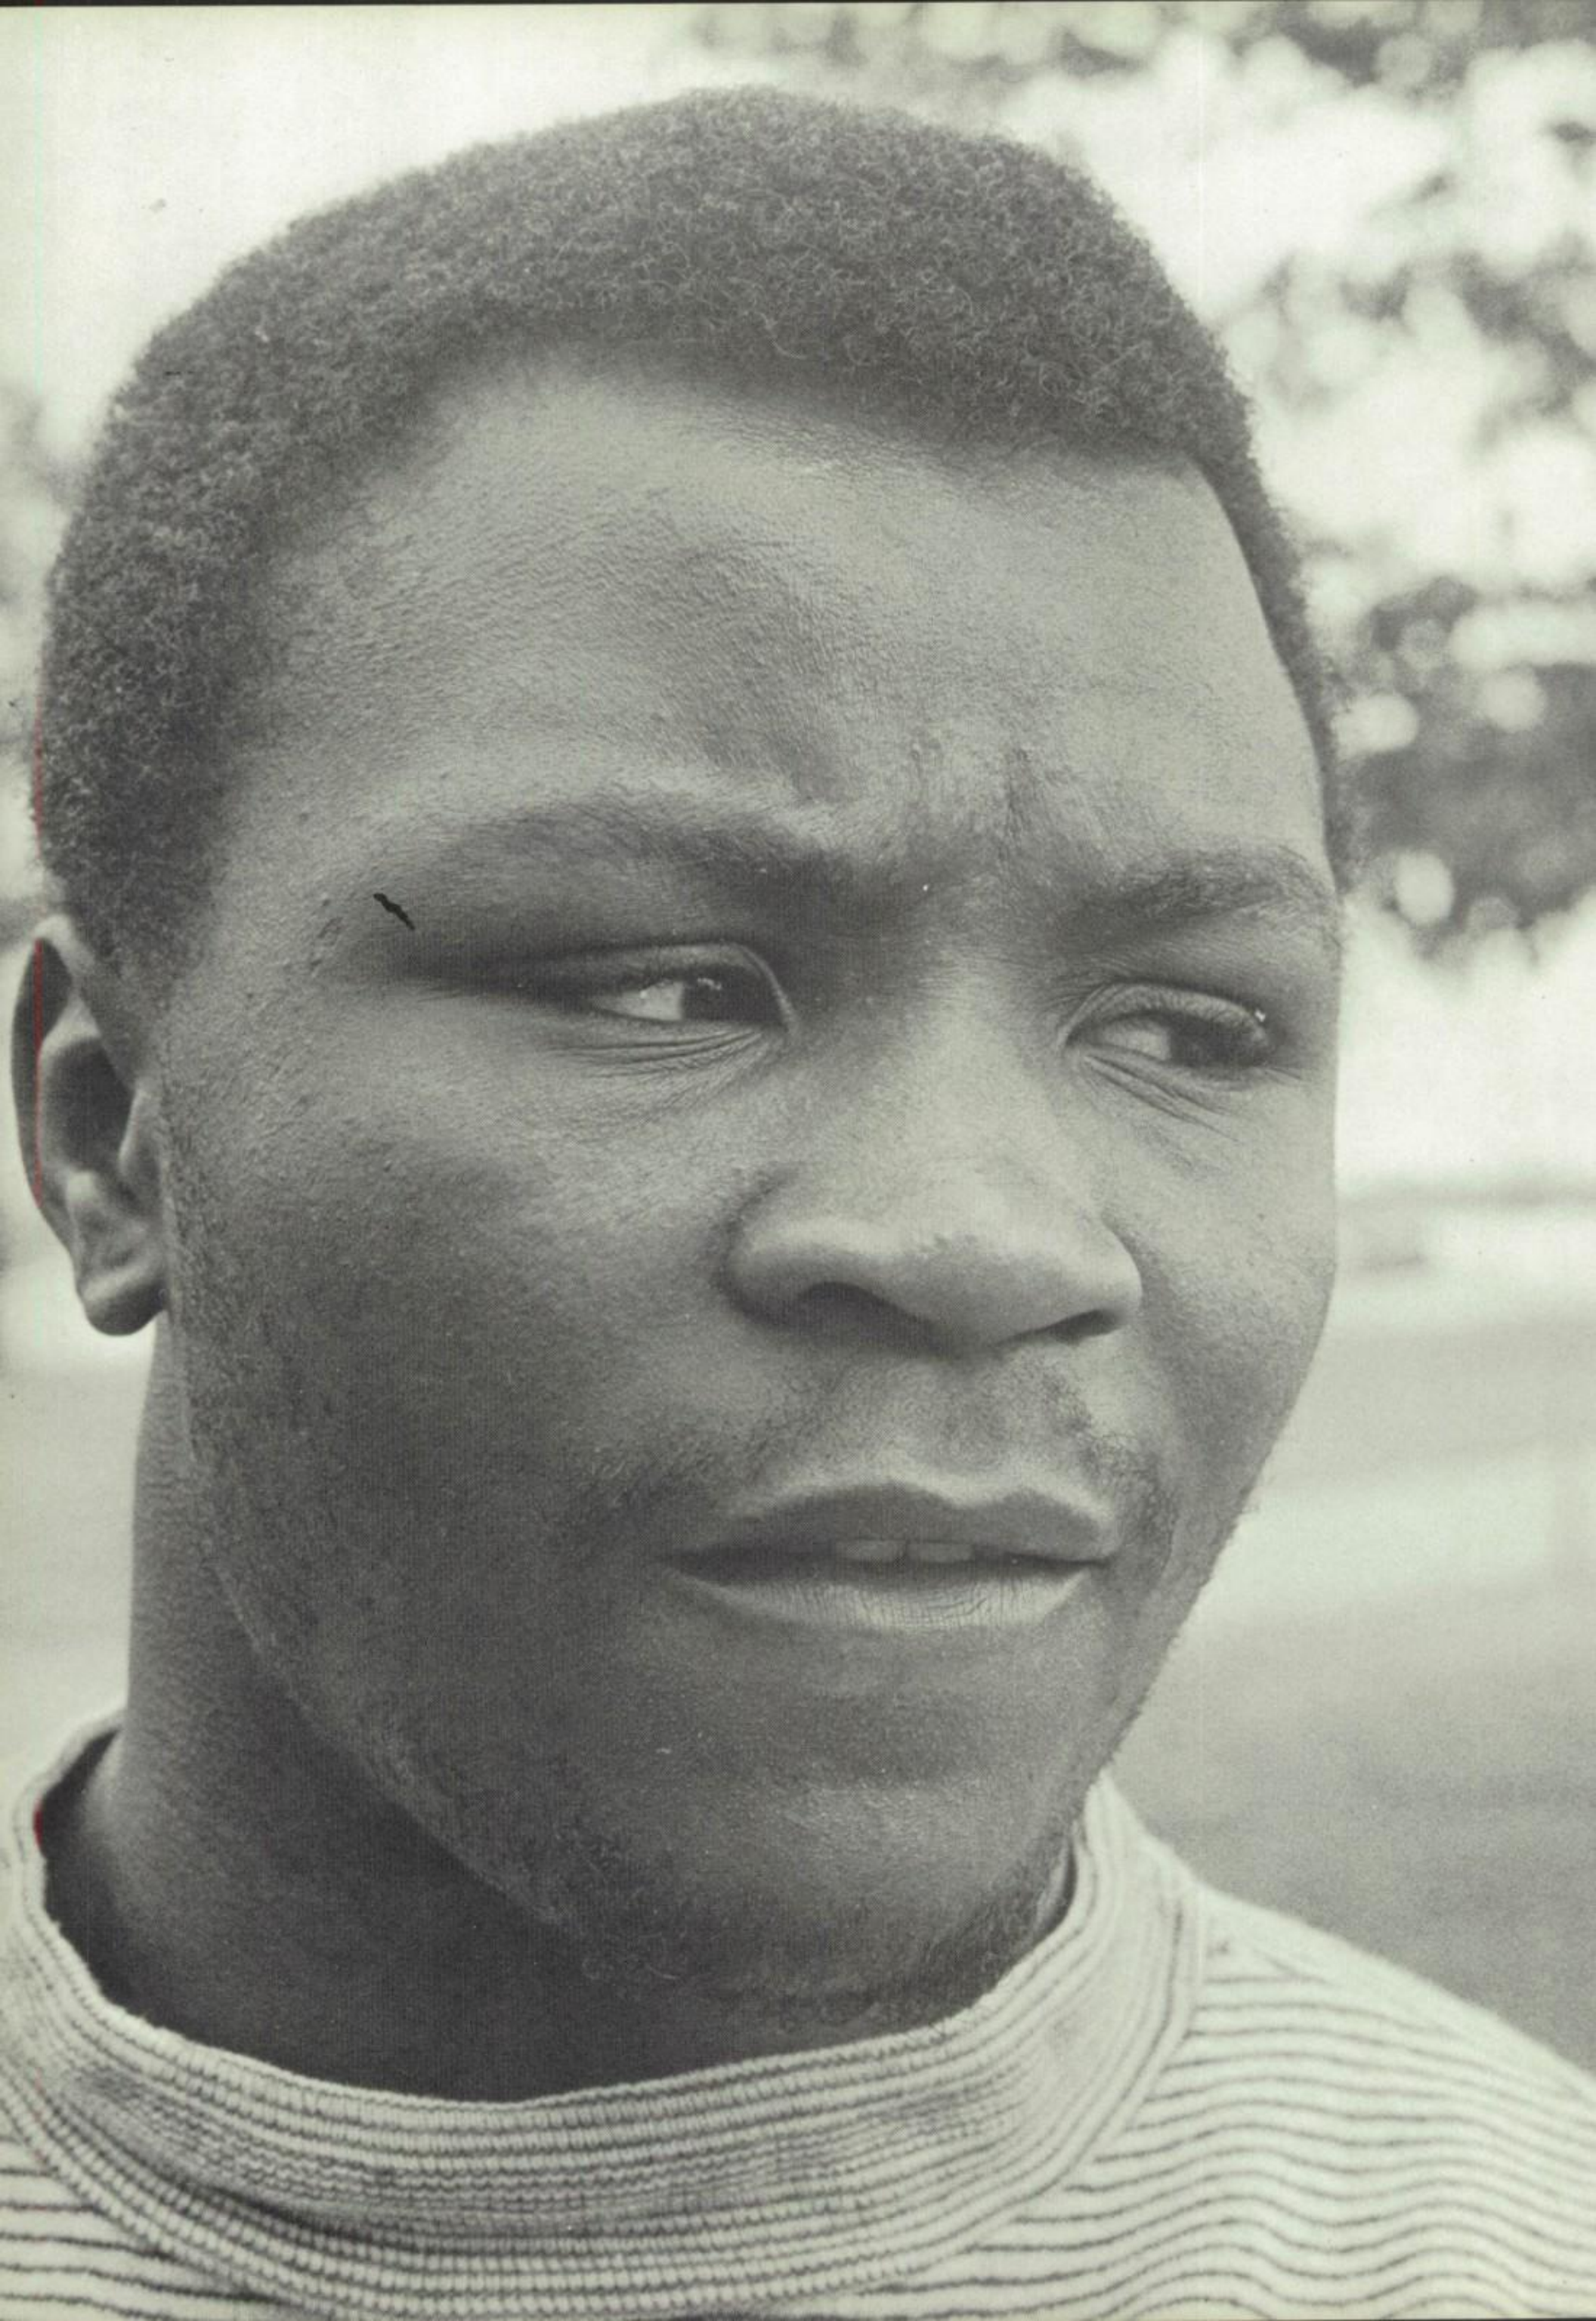

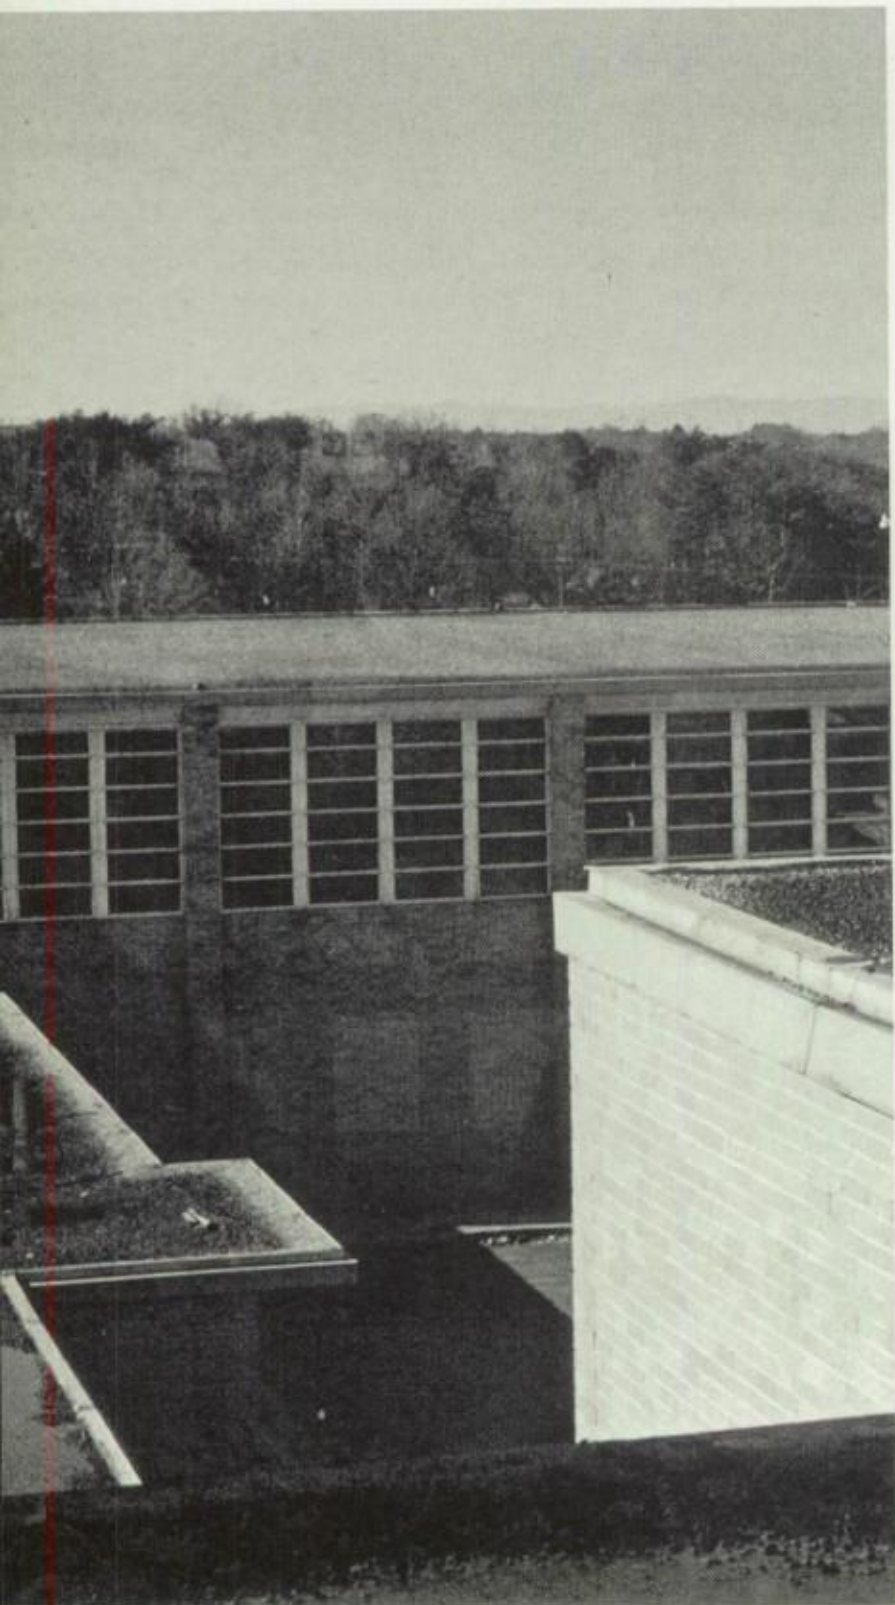

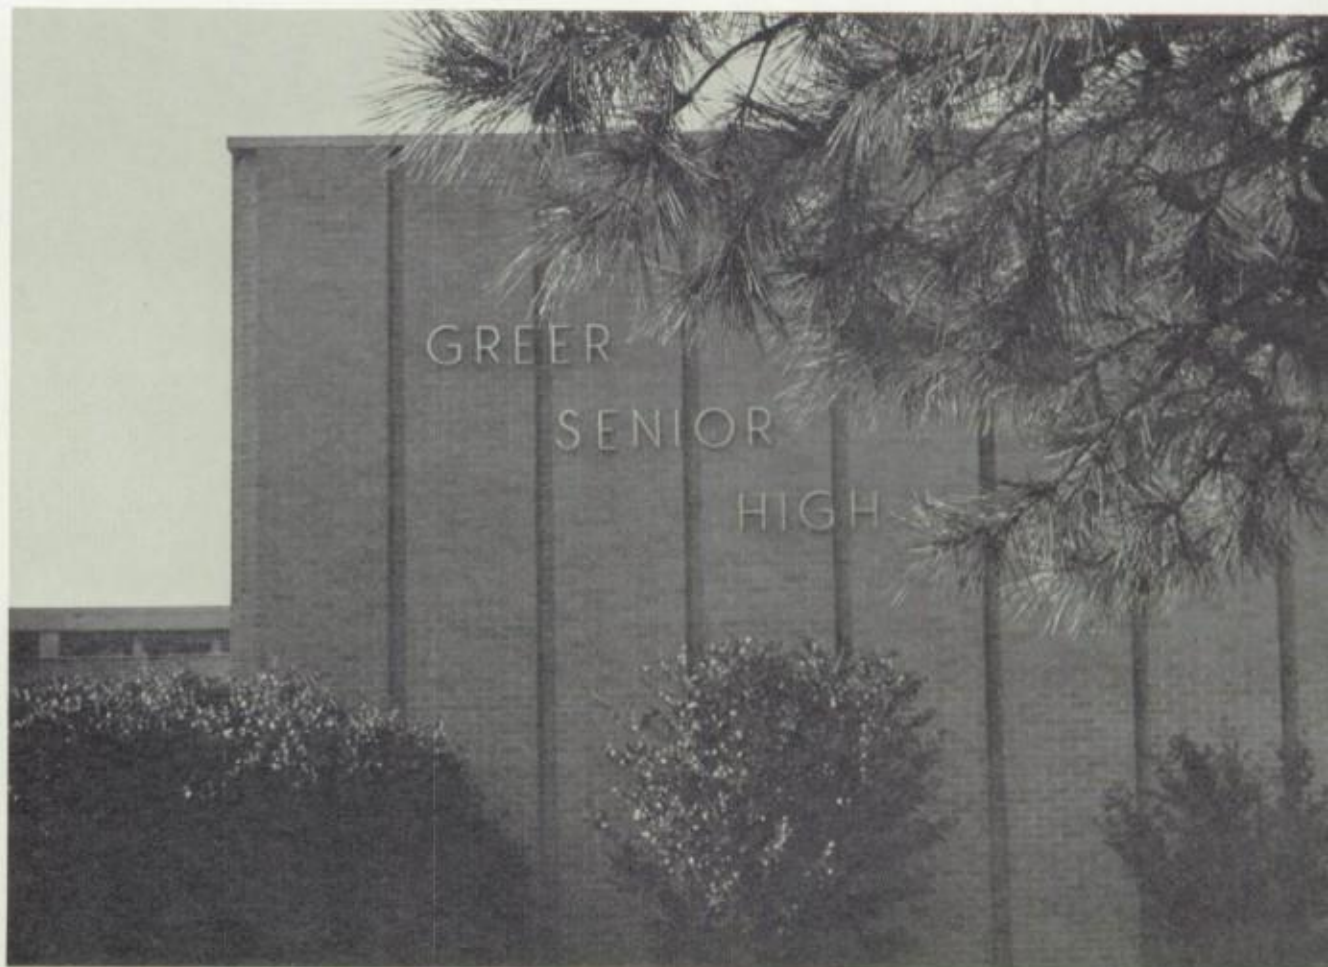

“In the state of Carolina
Near the mountains blue,
Stately stands a noble structure
With a spirit true.

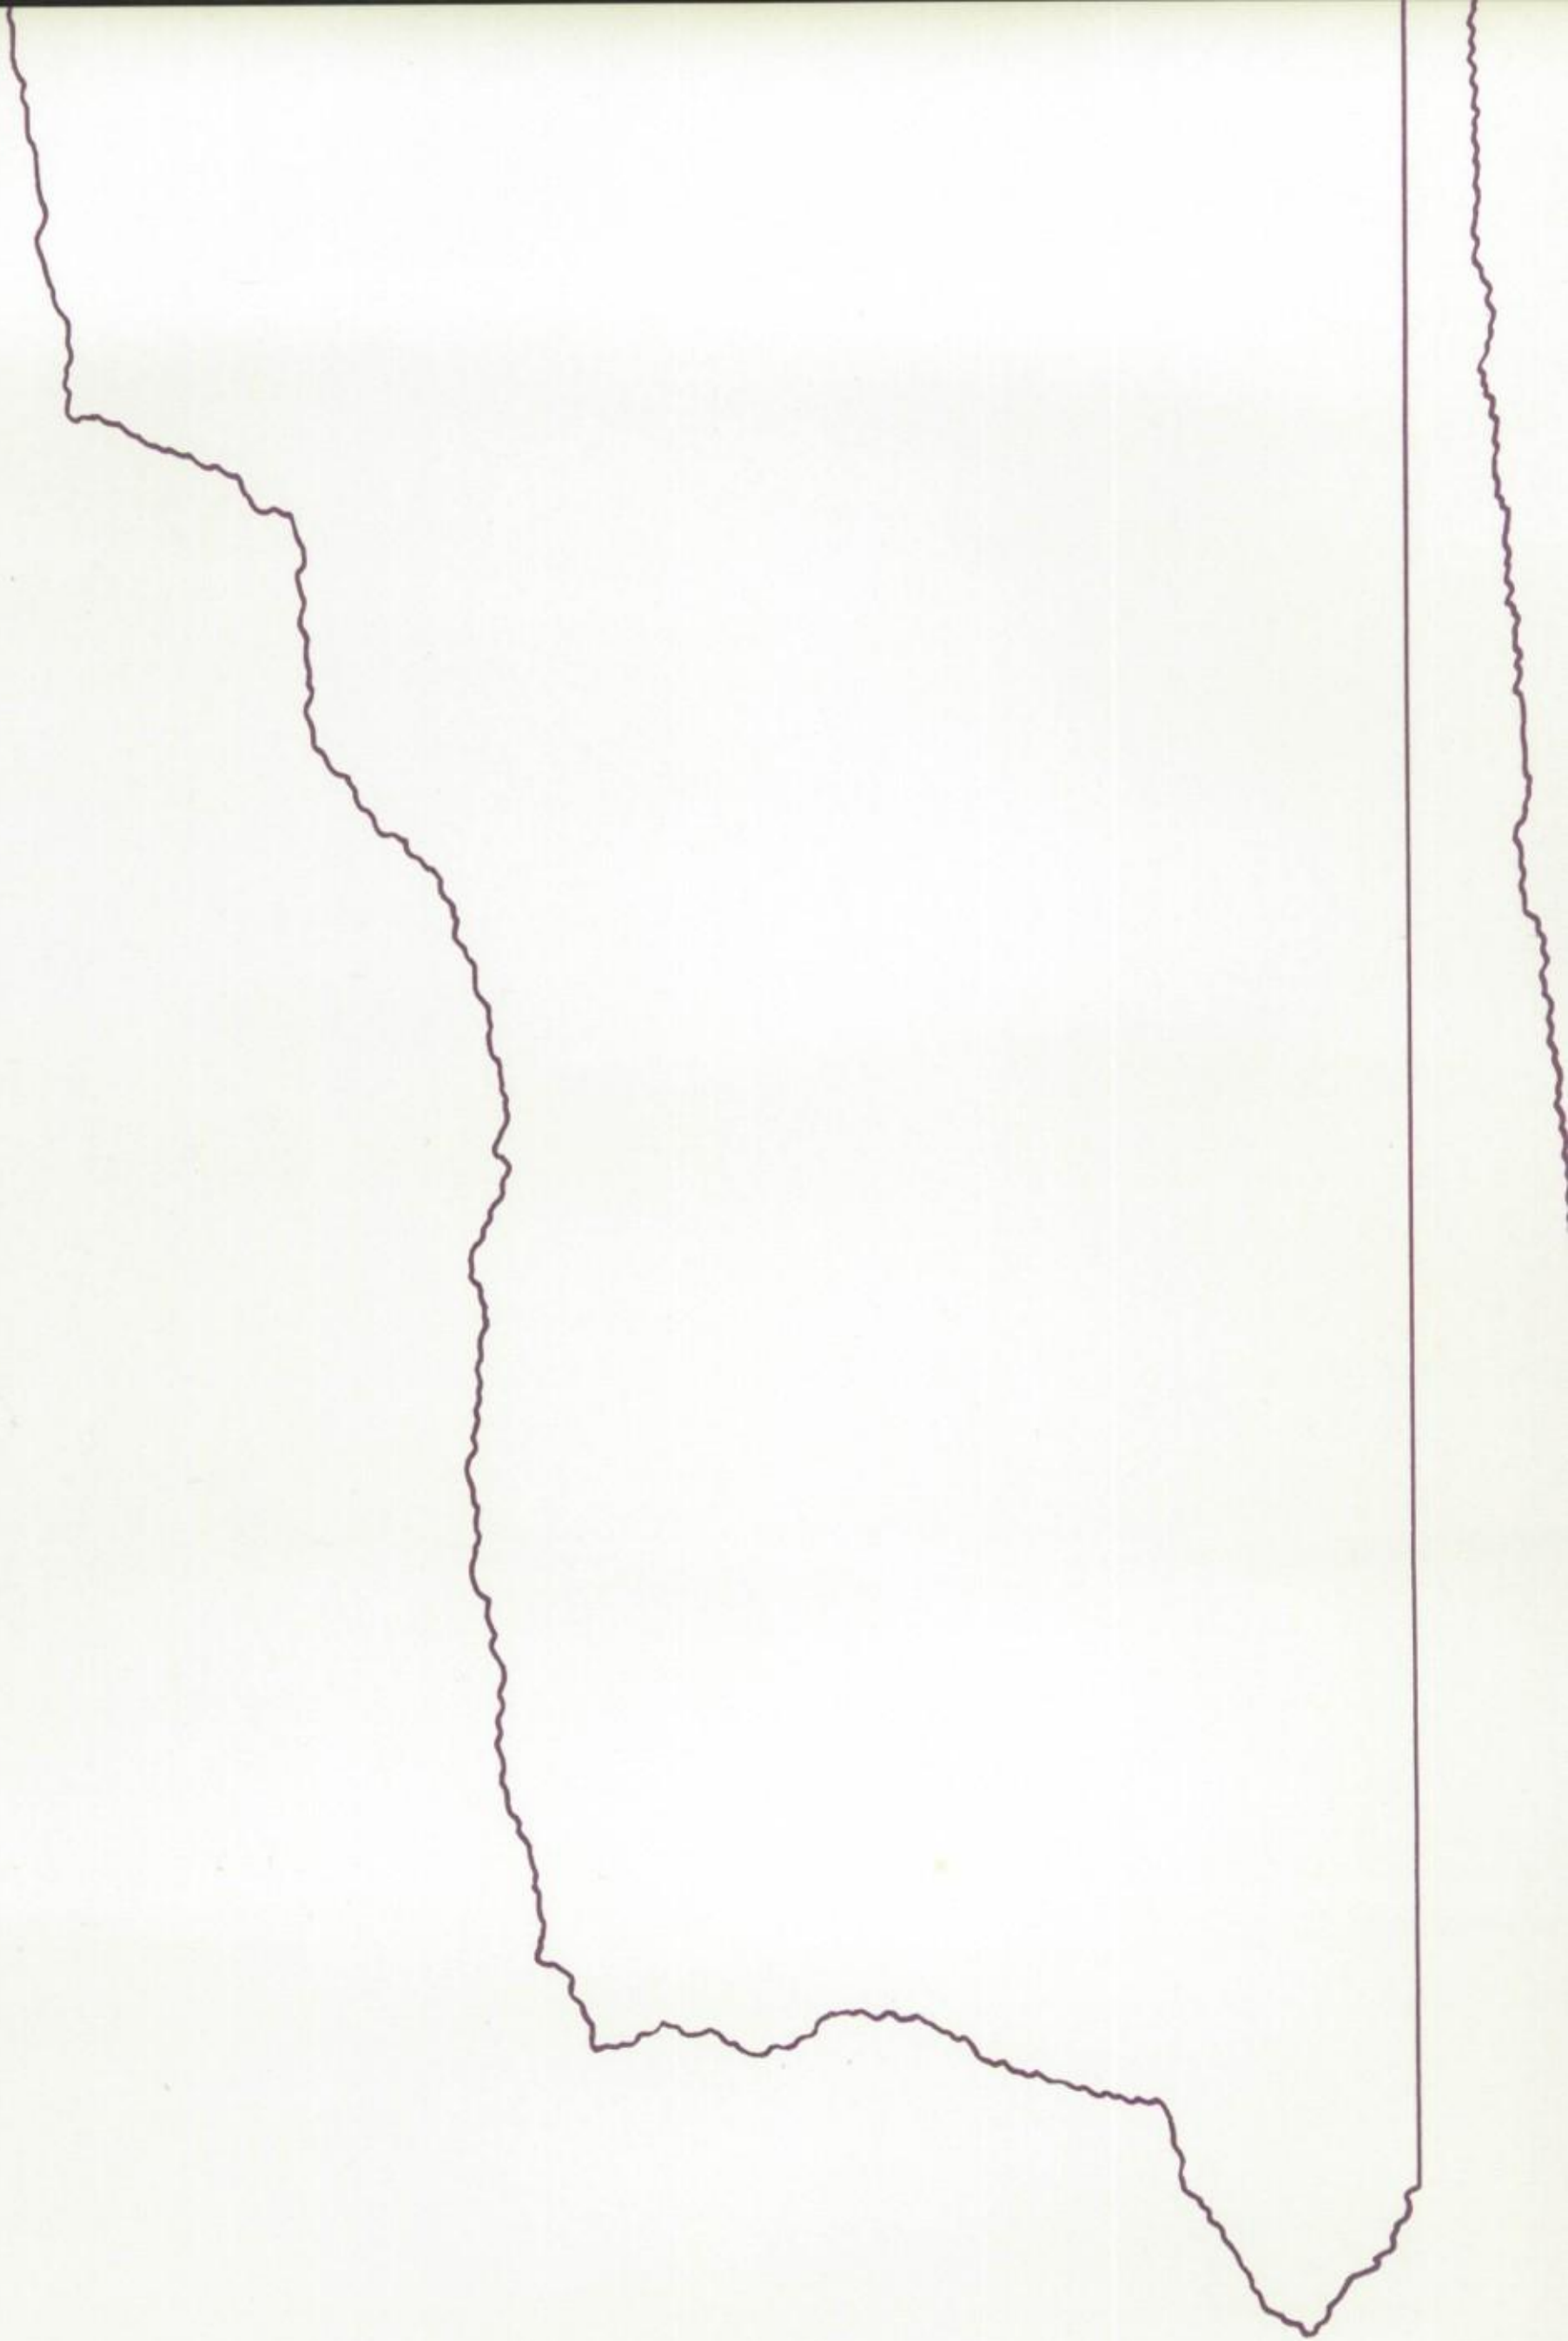

Lift your voices
Shout your praises
Over hill and dale.
Here's to thee our Alma Mater
Hail thee, Greer High, Hail!

Now and when we have departed
From her halls afar
May her truths and lofty ideals
Be our guiding star.”

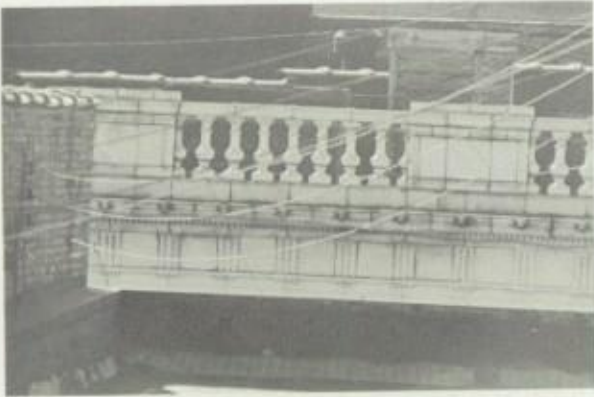

I keep remembering.

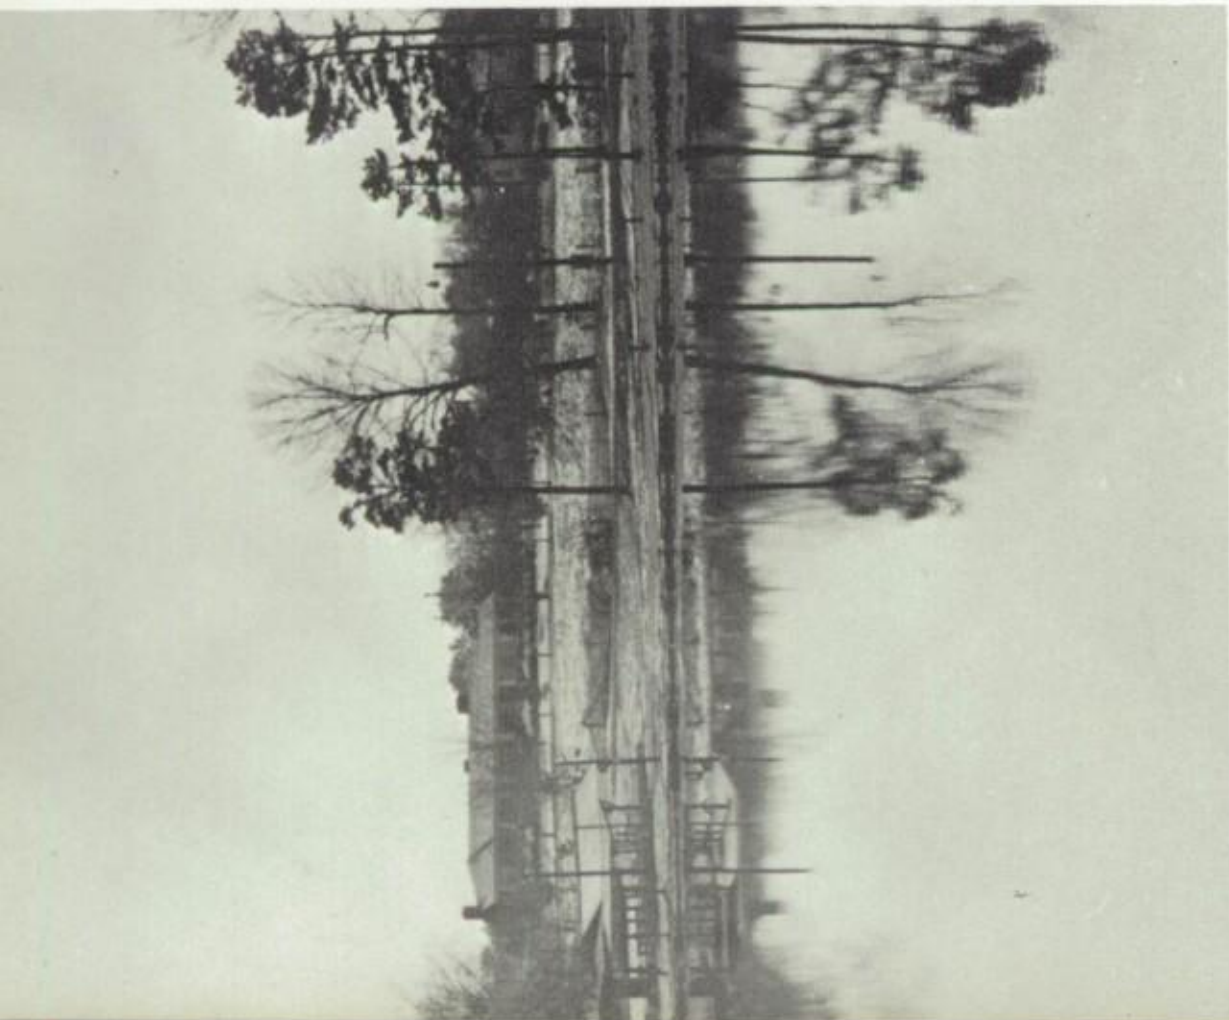

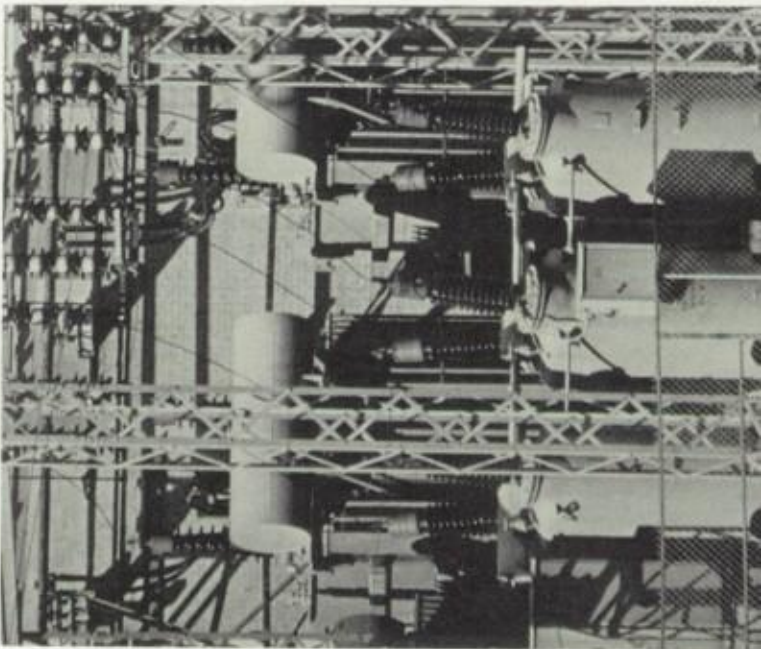

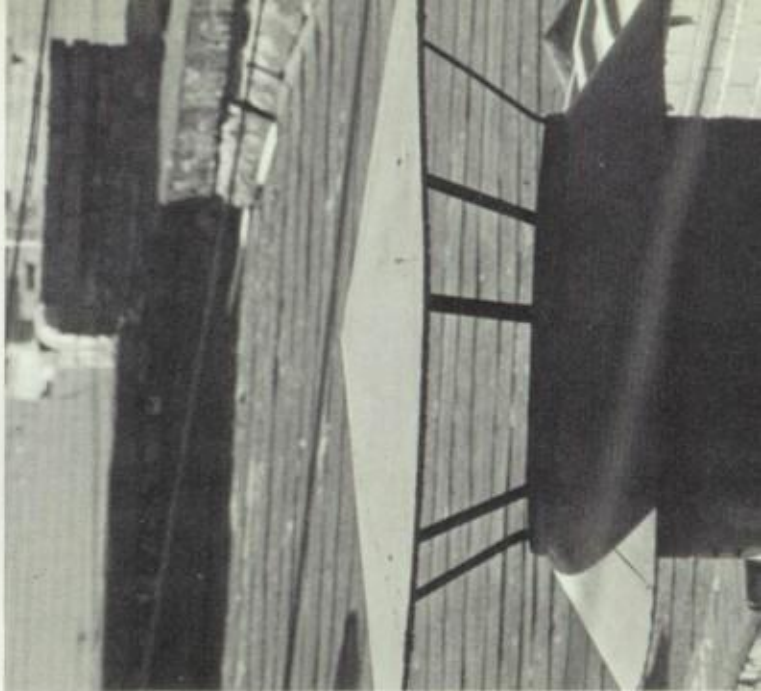

Greer is familiarity, close patterned knowing. You've grown up in its surroundings. You've ridden bicycles in the park, worked in the peach shed in the summer, and checked groceries at Community Cash. Downtown, the faces of Peebles', Lurey's and Frierson's remain as they are in memory images formed on childhood shopping trips. You know every detail of Greer and are familiar with everybody that lives here. You might not count that as an advantage. In fact, you might say Greer is where it's not at. It's where people go to bed at 9:30 and you can still tell which one's the girl. It's where old men stand outside the barber shop and talk on sunny afternoons. It's a member in good standing of the great silent whatchamacallit. A hick town? Or a good place to grow in? Your opinion makes the difference.

When you look for a study lamp, look for this tag.

Here's why:

The BLBS tag means that the lamp has been carefully designed to provide even, glare-free light, giving the best possible lighting for studying. The better the lighting, the better the studying. So look for lamps having the Better Light Better Sight tag at your favorite lighting dealer or Graduation!

One Chapter ends . . . another begins.
And it's not too early — nor too late—to look into your future and accept one of the exciting and challenging opportunities which exist for you in the Greenville area for a career in the health field.

There is an increasing need for specialists, and to learn about the requirements and qualifications, all you need to do is to write for brochures and applications.

It has been a pleasure to have you in 11-8. You men like you help me realize that a miped homefoom (home

If there was one word that would summarize 1971 at Greer High, that word would probably be "change". Whether a senior's memory of this year is pleasant or unpleasant depends on his reactions toward the changes that have taken place this year. The following quotations from various seniors in response to the theme topic "Greer High 1971" reveal varied reactions to this school year, but all have one thing in common, an awareness of change.

"I guess I am sort of partial to it because that is where I go."

"Greer High is a place that changes every year."

"I am not saying it's the best year or best senior class Greer has ever had, but this year is swell to me."

"I am very proud when I get out and go to football games and see the stands filled although we have not won a football game."

"I can not describe it, but this year has not been as good a year as I have experienced in the past."

"From the third floor, when you look out of the window at the grass, it's so green and pretty."

"As far as people are concerned, I can get along better with these people than anywhere else. They are good people. They will help you if you will let them."

"If I was asked to tell Greer High's best point, I would have to say its people. I know that there cannot be any school with students as friendly as those at Greer High."

"The students at Greer High are more friendly than we were at Carolina. We did more things than the students do here, but we did not have as great a percentage of students participating in school activities, such as pep rallies, as you do here."

"The school has made more progress toward student's feeling and showed more understanding in different cases than in past years."

"A person who graduates can face the future and be prepared if he will take full advantage of the skills and subjects taught here."

"Although the 1971 year at Greer High has seen many changes, there are still a lot of things that need changing."

"My grandmother, who lives in Greenville, once said, 'I love to shop for groceries in Greer because everyone is so nice.'"

"I guess I am sort of partial to it because that is where I go."

"As my first year here at Greer High, I would say it is a welcome-everybody school: 'We do not judge you by your color but by your ability. If you are wrong, we will straighten you out. If you need help, we will give it to you. '"

"At the present I think of the lunches also. I can not help but think about french fries because we have them so much. "

"After enrolling at this school I discovered I was supposed to go to Byrnes. I am sure the students there are very nice also, but I am glad I have met new friends here. "

"Truthfully, this is the worst year I have spent at Greer High. There just seems to be something absent from this year that was there the past three years. "

"It seems to be catching up with the times. "

"Greer High is a place that offers nothing more than education, and that is enough. "

"Seniors do not have as much pride in being seniors as they used to have. When I was younger, being a senior was a dream I had. Now I am, but it is nothing great. "

"This year also has had many advantages over the others because I am taking three subjects which will give me eighteen and one half units. "

"1971 for Greer High School has been a year of many changes, growing larger as a school and smaller as a school of togetherness. "

"Everyone has bent over backwards to make this school what it should be. "

"Anyone who visits Greer will right off see that most of the students will go out of their way to be friendly. "

"Girls can now wear pants, a move toward more student freedom and recognition, long overdue but now present. This helps to make this school year a little special from the rest. "

"I dread to think any further than 1971 about Greer High School. The future means leaving school and the established routine of the past twelve years. Right now, I'm enjoying what is left of the best part of my high-school years. Not until this year have I been involved even a little. I enjoy every day this year and am doing my best to make them worthwhile."

"It feels strange to be in my last year, and I can't help looking at underclassmen and thinking that they must feel they have a long way to go. I only wish I could have a little more time because I know as I grow older, I'm going to look back and wish I were here again."

This school year was in many ways first. So our goal was for Le Flambeau to keep pace and be a first also. This annual has more pages than any other Greer High annual ever. Le Flambeau is also a first with its reversible dust jacket and Playboy type foldout. More posturizations than ever occur in the '71 yearbook and many hand drawn representations of school life appear.

Although it is called a "yearbook", the 1971 Le Flambeau took considerably longer than a year to "edit". Its planning stage took place in 1969, and the actual work began last spring and continued through the summer. Much thought was given to making beauty pictures at Six Flags. Rehearsals took many hours of preparations for the Miss LeFlambeau, and the monthly deadlines, now hazy memories, seemed to come every other week. Even before the book was completed, we began planning Annual Day.

Throughout the 314 pages many complications occurred. Someone had to keep score on all the pictures, and Ben, who was responsible for the art work, was also the staff statistician. Frequently unwritten copy, kept us up late before deadlines. Nancy took care of the copy while Roxzanne held the purse strings. Meanwhile Jim had the thankless job of writing sports copy for a losing season. Libby supplied us with bubble gum, and Mr. Beason passed out the "easies". In spite of all the complications, preparations unlimited should secure you the most unusual Le Flambeau on record.

In addition to the activity room staff, other people observe credit. Thanks go to Wryley Bettis for his organ and Tim DuBose and Mark Morrow for their camera work. Mr. Robert Bacon, Mr. William Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hellams, and Mrs. Pat Arnold Jackson deserve special thanks for judging the beauty pageant. And, of course, the book could not have come out without the advertisers: Kim O'Quinn, Susan McElrath, Shirley Wolfe, Lynn McCraw, Wanda Echols, Sammy Beason, Anne Marie Bright, and John State.

This year we tried to create a memory book as well as a yearbook. We hope all students will like it now and enjoy thumbing through its pages in the future. Imagine, 30 years from now, looking back at the styles, phrases, and long hair, and laughing — or crying.

"Nevermore"

Michael Press,
 How crazy you have helped make me in Chemistry & English! Best of luck in Mrs. Gaston (a Bean) class next year. You really "moved up my mind" in the Review Beauty Pageant. If the beauty judges hadn't been so tough you might have won, & would you? You are a good sport about everything & have a great personality. I really have learned your friendship! Don't forget my mother
 "Mr. Price"
 Lots of love,
 Agummar (as 97th)

This has been a year of mixed emotions. Of moods, high and low. Of trampled feelings. "A year of change". Has it been great? All it could have been?
 No. This year was totally dependent upon the actions of the students and their efforts. Many times you didn't try. And then again, you did. You tried till it hurt and still failed. You shouted to be noticed.
 And made only a small squeak above the din of thirteen hundred other voices. In thinking about this year it has become a difficult choice to make of whether to try to remember or try to forget. Is that the thing to do, forget? Do you just lump the events of a year like this together and forget it? Or do you divide it up into phases? Into the different events.
 And savor the details of each happening and find something memorable. Maybe you do. Try to remember...

"Dazzle.

The beauties transmit their shine to the people around them.

That's what beauty really is.

What you're like on the inside showing through.

The way you feel.

Like you could lift the world."

"Grit.
It's a healthy way to vent stifled emotions.
A way to learn to get along with others.
Proving your ability.
That's the why of athletics."

"In.

Being involved.

Expressing yourself the way you want to.

Through organizations you learn to accept responsibility.

You feel a little bit of personal pride, of satisfaction, because you did something well and it got noticed."

“Now.
Spirit.
That’s what it’s all about.
It keeps a school alive.
And '71 had it.
And spirit is getting along together and showing pride in our school and community.
We had that too.”

"Album.
Album is people.
Friends.
Enemies.
All the people that make up Greer High."

"Somehow they symbolize something."

"Life, I guess."

2. "It's preparing young lives to face the outside world."

But the first is just talking in a book, and the second is a cliché.

School like life is now.
